G. O. P. Gains 16 Seats in House, 5 in Senate

Defeat of Insurgent Senator Attributed to Punishment Votes of "Regular" Republicans.

NEW MEXICO AND WYOMING DOUBTFUL

Blind Man Beats Johnson in Minnesota—Kentucky and Oklahoma Seats Won by G. O. P.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, November 5.—Belated returns gave the republicans the best of it today in the upsets in both the house and senate. But it appeared that final reports from all districts would be necessary before there could be a determination whether President Coolidge could expect a real working majority in the next congress.

Returns from 390 of the 435 congressional districts gave the republicans an actual majority—281—but in this total are included nearly a score of the La Follette independents.

The democrats, meantime, had made certain of 170 seats and the farmer-labor party of two.

On the basis of these returns, the republicans had made a net gain of 16 over the democrats, recapturing 20 seats as against four now held by republicans, which was moved over into the democratic column.

Brookhart Defeat Surprises. At adjournment last June, the house lineup was republicans 225, democrats 207, and three scattered.

In the senatorial contest, the most surprising result was in Iowa, where Smith W. Brookhart, republican, who publicly repudiated his own national ticket, had conceded his defeat at the hands of Daniel F. Steck, a democratic lawyer of Ottumwa. Mr. Steck was generally credited with receiving support from many regular republicans.

The republicans, however, apparently had gained five senatorial seats on the basis of returns received early tonight. These were in Massachusetts, Kentucky, Oklahoma and Colorado.

The democrats had elected eleven senators, while 17 republicans had been chosen or had such leads as to make their election practically certain. In the six remaining contests, all western states where returns still were coming in slowly, the results were uncertain.

Magnus Johnson Beaten. In Minnesota, Representative Thomas Schill, republican, had a commanding lead over Senator Johnson, farmer labor. Johnson still insisted, however, that missing rural precincts would return him a winner.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh, democrat, "prosecutor" in the oil investigation, was leading the field in Montana with a sufficient margin as to make him appear reasonably sure of reelection.

The result in both New Mexico and Wyoming was shrouded due to the slowness in gathering of returns. In Colorado, where two senate seats were at stake, Alva B. Adams, democrat, was leading Senator Phelps, republican, and Rice W. Means, republican, was ahead of Morrison Schafroth, democrat.

Gain Seat in Massachusetts. In gaining a seat in Massachusetts, the republicans elected Frederick H. Gillette, speaker of the house, over David I. Walsh, the democrat incumbent; in Kentucky, Fred M. Sackett, republican, won over Senator A. Owsley Stanley, democrat, while in Oklahoma it appeared that W. B. Pine, republican, had defeated

Magnus Johnson Handed Ticket "Back to Farm"

Blind Congressman Appears To Have Given Him a Beating.

Minneapolis, Minn., November 5.—Thomas B. Schill, the blind Minneapolis congressman, appears to have sent Magnus Johnson back to his farm in Kimball Wednesday, winning the junior senatorship of the Gopher domain by a plurality that probably will be around 15,000 or 20,000.

With 1,940 precincts out of 3,607 reported, Schill had 255,902 votes, against Johnson's 227,726.

Theodore Christensen won the governorship by 43,000 or better. Coolidge had a plurality of 79,000 over La Follette, with only 1,914 precincts counted, and his lead was growing hourly Wednesday night.

CHRISTIAN CHIEF LOPS LAST TITLE FROM BOY RULER

Last of Manchu Emperors of China Signs Abdication Paper Brought Him by Police Chief.

Peking, November 5.—Eighteen-year-old P' U Yi, boy-emperor of the Manchus and last of the "Great Pure Dynasty," as his modest forehead chose to designate themselves, has relinquished his rank, property and perquisites at the demand of an upstart Christian general who thought so little of the last of the Manchus line that he sent a lowly police chief to obtain the abdication.

P' U Yi is no stranger to the process of relinquishing birthrights. In 1912, when the republican era was beginning for the celestial empire, young P' U surrendered his position as emperor of China which he had held for four years, while China struggled under the evil influence of the dowager-empress who combined the escapades of Catherine of Russia, with the administrative blindness of a Bourbon.

S. GLENN YOUNG STIRS UP TROUBLE AT MARION, ILL.

Herrin, Ill., November 5.—A squad of national guardsmen, on election duty here, was rushed to Marion this evening, armed with rifles, when a report of threatened trouble between the Klan and anti-Klan forces was reported. S. Glenn Young, Williamson county Klan leader, accompanied by a score of his local assistants, was driven to Marion, where he was reported to have had trouble this afternoon.

According to reports sent here, Young and Adrian Smith, deputy sheriff, and known Klan enemy, had an altercation in front of the court house at Marion and during the encounter Young was said to have drawn his gun. Smith, it was said, was pushed down the court house steps and slightly injured. Sam Stearns, cyclops of the Klan, was said to have stopped the fight.

Warrants for the arrest of Young and Glenn Fowler, who was said to have participated in the encounter, were sworn out.

CONGRESS MAKEUP IS REAL PROBLEM FACING COOLIDGE

Cohesive Republican Majority in Both Senate and House Vital to His Policies.

INSURGENT BLOC SUFFERS SOME LOSS

La Follette Strength in Both Electoral and Popular Votes Is Far Short of Minimum Expected.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

New York, November 5.—With President Coolidge returned to office by the largest popular vote any candidate has ever received, the only question now remaining is whether he has been given a congress, which will enable him to control the legislative arm of the government.

At this writing, incomplete returns indicate that the republicans will have a slight majority in the house of representatives and in the senate. But whether it will be a majority that can be held together on all important test votes is a question. In the senate, for instance, the nominal republican majority will include not only those of the La Follette group who survive, but independently included republicans like Borah, Cossens and Howell.

Must Wait Final Counts.

Analysis of the congressional lineup must wait until definite word is received regarding the fate of Brookhart in Iowa and Magnus Johnson in Minnesota and Walsh in Montana. Colorado also has two senatorial seats which are doubtful at this hour, with the vote about one-third reported.

But whatever the numerical lineup, President Coolidge will find himself much stronger personally than in the previous congress, because of the

BROOKHART CUTS INTO STECK LEAD

Iowa Senator Reduces Rival's Margin by Thousands as Late Returns Come In.

Des Moines, Iowa, November 5.—The official canvass of ballots cast in Tuesday's election in Iowa may be required to decide the contest between U. S. Senator Smith W. Brookhart and Daniel F. Steck, republican and democratic candidates, respectively for the senate.

This possibility appeared tonight as returns from the last 200 of the state's 2,418 precincts slowly cut down a lead for Steck which this afternoon mounted to more than 12,000, and brought forth a statement from Senator Brookhart, that the Ottumwa lawyer apparently had defeated him.

Steck's Lead Cut to 1,000. The senator's campaign manager, Louis H. Cook, also issued a statement saying Steck apparently would be the winner by about 5,000 votes and dozens of congratulatory messages were being received by Steck when the straggling returns suddenly shifted to the favor of Brookhart and Steck's lead was reduced first by the thousands as counties completed their tabulation, then by smaller figures until it stood at 1,000 votes with less than 100 precincts not reported.

The missing precincts were largely in rural territory where Brookhart had shown an advantage over his opponent and politicians admitted the result might be favorable to the senator, should the swing continue.

Tonight the uncertainty somewhat dampened the ardor of Steck enthusiasts who already had planned old-time hullabalos in celebration of his victory.

Brookhart Wins Most Counties. The close race was emphasized by a comparison of virtually complete county totals tonight in which it was disclosed Senator Brookhart had carried 50 counties and 43 had gone to Steck, who carried all the more populous counties, including Brookhart's home county of Washington.

Returns of presidential contest from 2,339 precincts out of 2,418 in the state gave Coolidge, 506,042; Davis, 152,864, and La Follette, 233,489.

Facts of the Election

The total vote cast was 30,000,000, the largest in American history. President Coolidge receives 379 electoral votes, Davis 139, La Follette 13. President Harding received 404, and Cox 127. Coolidge's popular vote is estimated to be between 16,000,000 and 18,000,000. Harding received 16,000,000. Republicans elected 19 senators, gaining five seats. Democrats elected 13, losing five seats. The next senate probably will be composed of 54 republicans, 41 democrats and one farmer-laborite. Four of the republicans are classed as insurgents with several others, like Borah and Cossens, voting independently on many measures.

These figures are based upon the assumption that Steck, the democratic candidate, has been elected in Iowa, that Schill, the republican, has carried Minnesota, and that Phipps and Means, republicans, have carried Colorado.

Republicans are claiming from 20 to 25 new members in the house, giving them a clear majority.

NEW ERA IS SEEN IN U. S. POLITICS

Two Women Elected as Governors of States: One To Vindicate Husband, Other To Honor Him.

BY OTIS PEAODY SWIFT.

Chicago, November 5.—Revolutions may be accomplished quietly, without drama or bloodshed. Such a revolution—a sweeping change in America's unwritten political theory—has been accomplished in the apparent election of two women governors of states. Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, known as "Ma," has been elected governor of Texas, but faces a fight with Dr. George Butte, defeated republican candidate, who refuses to concede her election and charges that ballots were thrown out at the polls. Butte says he will demand an investigation.

Mrs. Nellie T. Ross, who like "Ma" is a democrat, has been chosen governor of Wyoming, according to available returns. Republicans concede her election by 2,500 votes over Eugene Sullivan, their opponent. The democrats claim she beat Sullivan by 5,000.

To Carry On Husband's Policies. Mrs. Ross, who succeeds her late husband as governor plans to carry on his ideals and projects when she rules Wyoming.

"Ma" Ferguson, meanwhile is apparently not worrying about Dr. Butte's charges. "I've got an awful cold," she said, "but I guess he feels worse than I do. I expect he's having a chill."

Other Women Win. In the background of the picture is "Pa" Ferguson, who has been an enthusiastic campaign booster for his wife. "Ma's" opponents have charged that he could run the state were his wife elected, but "Ma" is a square jawed person who looks as if she had a will of her own.

Meanwhile congress will see a new woman member in Mrs. Mary E. Norton, of Jersey City, vice chairman of the democratic state committee in New Jersey. She is the first congresswoman from east of the Mississippi.

Illinois has its first woman statesman in Mrs. Florence Fifer Bohrer, daughter of former Governor Joseph W. Fifer, who was elected to the Illinois senate. She is a republican.

In New York returns indicate that Mrs. Florence C. Knapp, republican, has won the fight for secretary of state.

Nation Should Give Thanks For Lasting Peace—Coolidge

President Formally Proclaims Day of Thanksgiving

Washington, November 5.—President Coolidge issued a proclamation today, formally proclaiming Thursday, November 27, as Thanksgiving day.

The proclamation says that thanks be given because the year had been marked by a continuation of peace whereby our country has entered into a relationship of better understanding with all the other nations of the earth and because at home we have continued to have an improving state of health, with industrial production large and harvests bountiful. It follows:

By the President of the United States of America, a Proclamation: We approach this season of the year when it has been the custom for the American people to give thanks for the good fortune which the result of providence, through the generosity of nature, has visited upon them. It is altogether a good custom. It has the sanction of antiquity and the approbation of our religious convictions. In acknowledging the receipt of divine favor, in contemplating the blessings which have been bestowed upon us, we shall reveal the true spirit of the nation. The year has been marked by a continuation of peace whereby our country has entered into a relationship of better understanding with all the other nations of the earth. Other ways have been revealed to us by which we could perform very great service through the giving of friendly counsel, through the extension of financial assistance and through the exercise of a spirit of neighborly kindness to the less favored peoples. We should give thanks for the power which has been given into our keeping, with which we have been able to render these services to the rest of mankind.

At home we have continually had an improving state of the public

Appeals "Only to Common Sense" and Has No Pledge Other Than To Serve, He Tells People.

Washington, November 5.—President Coolidge calmly received assurances today of his election as president by an overwhelming vote, issued a statement of "simple thanks" and turned again to his desk and the work which has constantly occupied his attention since entering office a little more than a year ago.

"I have no appeal except to the common sense of all the people," he said in expressing his appreciation in the statement which he read to a group of newspaper men in his office. "I have no pledge except to serve them. I have no object except to promote their welfare."

Congratulations From World. Up early after retiring late last night, the president went to the executive office after a walk about the white house grounds and read returns which had accumulated during the night and gave assurance of his election. During the morning a telegram of congratulation was received from John W. Davis, the democratic presidential nominee to which Mr. Coolidge replied expressing his thanks.

Intimate friends called throughout the morning and afternoon to extend congratulations, among them being several members of the cabinet. Meanwhile messenger boys brought telegrams and cablegrams of congratulations from all parts of the world.

Turning his attention to official business, Mr. Coolidge issued a proclamation proclaiming Thursday, November 27, as Thanksgiving day. A short nap this noon made the sleep last night when late hours were kept by the family receiving returns, but he was again in the office in the afternoon.

Greeted by Passersby. The president late in the day went for a walk through the downtown section of the city. Mingling among the crowds, he was often recognized and the greetings of all seemed a little happier than usual.

"I wish to congratulate you, we are proud of you," one woman said to Mr. Coolidge as he stood on the corner waiting to cross the street. The president lifted his hat and thanked her.

"Coolidge sweeps nation," newsmen sang out at various corners as the president passed, while newspaper headlines told of the rising republican majority.

Washington, November 5.—Manuel Herrick, former representative from Oklahoma, was awarded damages of one cent by a jury in circuit court today in his suit for $50,000 damages against Miss Ethelyn Charnes, his former stenographer, for alleged breach of promise to marry him.

A jury in the same court yesterday awarded Miss Charnes $7,500 damages against Herrick for alleged libelous statements concerning her in a paper filed in court in support of his breach of promise case.

Mayor Urges Atlantans To Join in Remembrance of Wounded.

Final plans for the fourth annual observance of "Forget-Me-Not" day in Atlanta on Friday, and in more than sixty cities and towns throughout Georgia on Saturday, will be completed at a luncheon to be held at the Atlanta Hotel on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at which will be present officers of the state department of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War and the various chairmen of groups of women workers who will sell tags and forget-me-nots on Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Irving S. #### Lodge in Coma; Surgical Shock May Prove Fatal

Leader of G. O. P. Senatorial Forces Underwent First Operation in July.

Boston, November 5.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who was operated upon October 20 at the Charles Gate hospital, suffered a shock at noon today and has been unconscious since, his secretary said tonight.

At midnight Senator Lodge's condition was said to be serious. Dr. John H. Cunningham, who had performed two operations upon the senator and who has attended him daily, made no statement tonight. It was said he would make a detailed announcement tomorrow morning.

Senator Lodge first underwent an operation on July 27. He, it was thought, had fully recovered from this, and a second, less serious, was performed last month. Until today his convalescence had progressed favorably. He had been able to sit up daily and was in apparent good health.

GEORGIA FAITHFUL TO OLD STANDARD IN TUESDAY'S VOTE

Democratic Vote Remains Steadfast Against Republican Party's Sweep in National Election.

The landslide with which John W. Davis swept Georgia in Tuesday's general election and the majorities by which the eight constitutional amendments were ratified were materially increased when additional returns coming in Wednesday practically completed the tabulation of the state.

The electors also reelected Governor Clifford Walker, democrat, over H. B. Baylor, independent, by a large vote and sent United States Senator William J. Harris, unopposed, back to his post in Washington. Twelve democratic congressmen were elected.

Only two of these were opposed and they easily defeated their opponents. Returns from 1,627 precincts of a total of approximately 1,735 in the state gave Davis 111,430 votes, as compared with 27,751 for Coolidge, republican; 10,362 for La Follette, independent; 92 for Nations, American, and 127 for Farris, prohibitionist.

These returns included official consolidations of many counties. Coolidge had only three Georgia counties in his column, while La Follette had none, on the face of these returns.

Pickens, Haralson and Gilmer which normally poll a large republican vote, were the counties.

In the governor's race, returns from 1,424 precincts showed Governor Walker had 117,662 votes, while Baylor had 4,091.

Amendments Approved. These same 1,424 precincts gave the amendment to create the county of Peach 63,550 votes for and 25,622 against. The amendment to provide for biennial sessions of the legislature, instead of annual meetings as at present, received 69,049 favorable ballots to 14,577 unfavorable ballots to 22,942.

The city-county government amendment registered in 1,466 precincts. 54,333 favorable votes to 17,783 negative ballots. The constitutional amendment scored 58,873 votes for and 14,577 against in the same number of precincts. The Savannah bond measure got 60,427 affirmative votes and 13,121 unfavorable ballots.

Democrats Win. In the two races for the state senate, S. C. Boykin, democrat, appeared to have won in the thirty-seventh district, while E. C. Wellborn, democrat, had a good lead in the fortieth.

In Union county, the democratic candidate was the victor in the race for the state legislature. J. E. Barnard, republican, defeated Ed Kendall, democrat, in Towns county for the house. All three democratic candidates for the legislature won in Chatham county.

James M. Cox, democratic presidential nominee in 1920, received 107,162 votes in Georgia. Davis already has exceeded this total, on the face of incomplete returns, while Coolidge is running far behind Harding, who got 43,720 Georgia votes four years ago. The three counties carried by the republicans, according to present returns, also fall short of the 19 carried by Harding in 1920.

HOOVER AND WORK MAY BE SHIFTED TO PLEASE BUTLER

President's Campaign Manager Expected To Claim Commerce Job as Reward for Victory.

SWEEPING CHANGES ARE NOT PROBABLE

Postoffice Portfolio Has Been Regarded as Particular Plum for Successful Field Generals.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

Washington, November 5.—The lineup of the cabinet for the next administration is now engaging attention here, with the election of President Coolidge. The president is not expected to make any sweeping alterations but there is likely to be a new face or two about the table, with perhaps an exchange of portfolios in one or two cases.

Coolidge is not the type to tear up his machine and make a new one. However, there is one vacancy now which must be filled—that left by the late Secretary of Agriculture Wallace—and it is expected that the president will reward at least one or two of those who took a leading part in his campaign by cabinet plums.

May Shift Hoover. It has been the custom in recent years for presidents to appoint their campaign managers to head the post-office department. Under this procedure, William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, chairman of the republican national committee, would take over the position held by Harry New, of Indiana, on March 4, becoming postmaster general when the new administration begins.

Butter probably will get his choice, however, and it may be that he would prefer some other post. It has been suggested that his inclination likely would lie more toward the department of commerce, and that if he is given this portfolio, Hoover would be transferred to the interior department, now headed by Dr. Hubert Work.

Sleep May Go Up. It has been suggested that C. Bascom Sloop, the president's secretary, may be lifted to a cabinet position, that of postmaster general, if a change is made there, and Butler, the probable appointee, should prefer another post.

It has been reported that there is friction between Sloop and Butler, and a rumor is current that the secretary to the president may resign his position shortly on this account. An effort is being made, it is understood, to patch up the differences between the two, which is said to date from the Cleveland convention.

There has been considerable talk in labor circles of the appointment of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, to the position of secretary of labor, now held by James J. Davis. Another mentioned for this position is T. V. O'Connor, at present chairman of the shipping board, and for years president of the International Longshoremen's union. Of the other members of the present cabinet, it is expected that there will be no changes.

COOLIDGE PLURALITY UNRIVALED IN HISTORY

HAS 100 ELECTORS TO SPARE ALREADY

Only Handful of Electoral Votes Remain in Doubt as Last Returns Come In.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
New York, November 5.—The full measure of the republican victory at the polls could not yet be taken tonight, but the returns continued to show that President Coolidge would have at least 100 votes to spare in the electoral college, and the largest popular plurality in history.

The showing made by John W. Davis remained unchanged throughout today and although Senator La Follette began to creep up a little in one or two western states, there was no certainty tonight that he would receive the electoral vote of any state group except that of Wisconsin.

On the face of the day's congressional returns the republicans made certain of a paper majority, at least in both senate and house, but doubt remained whether the margin would be great enough to give the administration the whip hand over the combined opposition of the democrats and the La Follette bloc.

As the presidential figures stood tonight, with only a handful of electoral votes still in doubt, the indicated strength of the three candidates in the electoral college was Coolidge 379, Davis 139, La Follette 13.

"Baby Volstead Act" Gets Narrow Majority in Massachusetts

Boston, Mass., November 5.—On the face of late returns, a liquor referendum which would give the state of Massachusetts the right to prosecute cases of manufacturing or transporting liquor appeared to have been carried by a narrow majority. The proposed law has been described as the "baby Volstead act."

At 10 o'clock tonight virtually every national and state contest in Illinois had been definitely decided with the exception of the twentieth district congressional race where Henry T. Rainey, democratic incumbent, had a lead of 259 votes over Guy L. Shaw, republican, with 59 precincts missing. The votes in these precincts, it was learned, would not be available until tomorrow. Mr. Rainey claimed victory by 2,501 and Mr. Shaw also declared he would win.

Davis' Sister Glad He Didn't Win Election

Yonkers, N. Y., November 5.—Mrs. Hilary G. Richardson, sister of John W. Davis and wife of the pastor of the First Unitarian church of Yonkers, said tonight that she felt "tremendously relieved" because her brother was not elected president.

"It has not been any special strain," she said, "although we have all been on the anxious seat for fear he would be elected and have to serve four years in that very grave and difficult position."

"It is an honor, certainly, to be head of a nation, but there are other things to be considered. We all were hoping that it would not come to pass."

"Of course I voted for him—all the members of the family did, but simply because he was in the race. I can gladly relegate that we are enormously relieved."

"I will stay here for a short time and rest up and then take a trip south this winter and resume the practice of law upon my return to New York City," he told newspapermen at his home here Wednesday evening.

"How about four years from now?" Davis was asked.

"Four years is too long a time to accept or reject any nomination," he said with a smile.

"I feel fine and fit. After I became hardened I enjoyed every minute of the campaign. I regret that it is over," he said in answer to a query about his physical condition.

Election Returns

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
ALABAMA.
Unofficial returns from 515 out of 1,045 precincts from Tuesday's election in Alabama gave the following vote for president: Davis, 51,429; Coolidge, 15,244, and La Follette, 3,987.

ARKANSAS.
Tabulation tonight of scattering returns from 75 Arkansas counties, counting for approximately 52,000 votes, gave John W. Davis 33,124; President Coolidge 13,864 and Senator La Follette 4,984. Arkansas voters also elected the democratic congressional candidates by majorities ranging from two-to-four-to-one.

CALIFORNIA.
Calvin Coolidge's plurality in California had risen tonight to 233,721 votes over Senator La Follette when 7,405 had been tabulated by the Associated Press. The vote stood: Coolidge 606,095, La Follette 353,344, Davis 58,622.

COLORADO.
With the tabulation of returns early tonight it became apparent that President Coolidge would carry the state by a large plurality. Complete returns from 1,245 precincts out of 1,493 in the state gave: Coolidge, 165,787; Davis, 63,324; La Follette, 45,448.

FLORIDA.
John W. Davis maintained a lead of slightly less than two to one over President Coolidge in Florida as additional returns from the state were tabulated.

GEORGIA.
One thousand six hundred and twenty-seven precincts out of 1,735 gave: Davis 111,430; Coolidge 27,751; La Follette 10,362.

IDAHO.
Returns from 775 precincts out of 838 gave: Coolidge 52,963, Davis 17,858, La Follette 37,806. Progressive leaders have conceded the state to republicans in all except some county offices.

IOWA.
Coolidge is leading two to one in both city and county precincts. La Follette's failure to draw his claimed support from the farmers surprised the leaders of all parties.

ILLINOIS.
President Coolidge had a lead of about three-quarters of a million in the national election in Illinois at a late hour today, based upon returns from 4,845 precincts out of 5,989 in the state.

KENTUCKY.
Small but apparently safe majorities for the republican candidates for president and senator, indicated in returns from more than four-fifths of the precincts of the state today, throw Kentucky's electoral vote of 13 to a republican for the second time in history.

MICHIGAN.
With more than one-third of the state's 2,775 precincts heard from, President Coolidge had rolled up a vote of 3 to 1 against the combined forces of Davis and La Follette.

MINNESOTA.
The Coolidge lead in Minnesota continued to increase as scattered rural precincts reported, and late in the day, with 2,325 precincts out of the 3,697 accounted for, the president had a plurality of 73,578. The count stood: Coolidge 316,280, Davis 41,582, La Follette 242,711.

MISSOURI.
For governor, 3,374 of the 4,039 precincts gave Baker, republican, 539,133; Nelson, democrat, 529,344.

MONTANA.
With returns from approximately half of the state's 1,533 precincts, President Coolidge and Senator Thomas J. Walsh, democrat, appeared assured of substantial majorities in Tuesday's balloting. J. E. Erickson, democrat, was piling up an overwhelming lead over Joseph M. Dixon, republican incumbent, in the gubernatorial race.

NEBRASKA.
The republicans made practically a clean sweep of Nebraska in yesterday's general election. Not only did they carry the state for President Coolidge by an overwhelming plurality, but they re-elected Senator George W. Norris over his democratic opponent for the senate, J. J. Thomas; named Adam McMullen the gubernatorial nominee over J. E. Norton, and obtained a majority in the state senate and house of representatives.

NEW JERSEY.
As returns from rural sections of the state continued to pour in tonight, there was every indication that President Coolidge and General Dawes had carried New Jersey yesterday by a plurality exceeding 350,000. The state tonight with 118 districts out of 2,559 missing, stood: Coolidge, 622,596; Davis, 280,711; La Follette, 99,123.

NEW YORK.
New York state's plurality for President Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes tonight stood at 3,190,000 when returns from 7,319 out of the 7,593 election districts, including the New York city vote, had been tabulated.

PENNSYLVANIA.
Figures from 5,087 districts out of 5,169 in the state gave Coolidge a plurality of 737,088. The vote was: Coolidge 1,023,124; Davis 286,037; La Follette 183,933. This is the largest plurality ever recorded for a presidential candidate in Pennsylvania.

Davis, Coolidge Swap 'Bouquets' After Outcome

Washington, November 5.—John W. Davis today congratulated President Coolidge on his election to the presidency.

"Permit me to congratulate you," Mr. Davis telegraphed, "on your sweeping victory, and to express the hope that your administration may by its success insure to the welfare of the country."

President Coolidge sent this reply: "Please accept my thanks for your message and my appreciation of the patriotic sentiments you express."

Ellen B. Davis, wife of John W. Davis, telegraphed Mrs. Coolidge today a message of congratulation on her "husband's victory."

Mrs. Davis said: "Please let me congratulate you on your husband's victory."

Mrs. Coolidge sent the following telegram in reply: "Thank you for your kind telegram of congratulation. Best wishes to you."

WALSH, MONTANA, WINS SENATE SEAT

Helena, Mont., November 5.—Montana voters Tuesday selected Senator Thomas J. Walsh, democrat, to succeed Congressman John M. Evans, democrat, first district, and Congressman Scott Leitch, republican, second district, by substantial majorities, according to unofficial returns tonight from more than half the state's 1,533 precincts in 53 of the 55 counties.

President Coolidge maintained a commanding lead over La Follette, with Davis gaining slightly in the belated rural reports.

J. E. Erickson, democrat, unseated Joseph M. Dixon, republican incumbent, in the gubernatorial race by a decisive plurality.

PENNSYLVANIA.
Figures from 5,087 districts out of 5,169 in the state gave Coolidge a plurality of 737,088. The vote was: Coolidge 1,023,124; Davis 286,037; La Follette 183,933. This is the largest plurality ever recorded for a presidential candidate in Pennsylvania.

SOUTH CAROLINA.
Returns from 1,405 out of 1,888 precincts in South Carolina for president: Coolidge, 87,847; Davis, 22,679; La Follette, 62,679.

SOUTH DAKOTA.
Returns from 1,405 out of 1,888 precincts in South Dakota for president: Coolidge, 87,847; Davis, 22,679; La Follette, 62,679.

TENNESSEE.
Democratic majorities in Tennessee were maintained today as additional returns trickled in, accounting for 1,564 of the 2,139 precincts in the state. Increasing the total for John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee, to 108,852 and giving him a lead of approximately 20,000 votes over President Coolidge in the contest for the state.

UTAH.
With only about half of the state returns of yesterday's general election counted tonight, the popular vote for president, according to tabulations of the Salt Lake Tribune stands: Coolidge, 45,000; Davis, 30,000; La Follette, 13,500. Governor Charles B. Mabey tonight conceded the election of George H. Deern, his democratic opponent.

VERMONT.
Vermont, his native state, gave a four-to-one victory. 247 of the 248 towns in the state gave president: Coolidge, 8,212; Davis, 16,108; La Follette, 5,910.

WISCONSIN.
With only five precincts missing out of 219 in the district, Victor L. Berger, socialist congressman from the fifth Wisconsin district, apparently is leading his republican opponent by 128 votes. At noon the unofficial count stood: Berger, 29,890; Braun, 29,771.

WYOMING.
With Coolidge apparently assured of a large plurality, interest centered on the possibility that Mrs. Nollie T. Berger, widow of the late Governor William B. Rogers, would be elected governor of Wyoming. Early today with more than one-half of the state's votes accounted for, she was leading her republican opponent, Eugene J. Sullivan, by more than 3,000 votes.

FIGHT JUST BEGUN SAYS LA FOLLETTE

Madison, Wis., November 5.—"The progressives will not be dismayed by this result. We have just begun to fight."

That was Senator Robert M. La Follette's first comment on the election in a statement here Wednesday, in which he called on members of the progressive party to "close ranks and gird themselves for the next battle."

Obstructions Too Great.
Charging that the progressives had been "overwhelmed" for the time being by the use of slush funds, intimidation, technical obstruction and abuse of power in securing a place for independent electors on the ballot and in the count and return of the vote, La Follette said that progressives would not be dismayed by the landslide for Coolidge.

"The election of Calvin Coolidge by a landslide is apparent from the returns now in," La Follette's statement said. "The American people have chosen to retain in power the reactionary republican administration with its record of corruption and subservience to the dictates of organized monopoly."

Loss Not an Incident.
"The progressives will not be dismayed by this result. We have just begun to fight. There can be no compromise on the fundamental issues for which we stand. The loss in this one battle in the age-long struggle of the masses against the privileged few is but an incident."

MASSACHUSETTS BEATS CHILD LABOR MEASURE
Boston, November 5.—A referendum on ratification of the federal child labor amendment to the federal constitution was defeated in yesterday's election by a wide margin, as was the proposition for a state gasoline tax. The state prohibition enforcement law apparently was defeated by a narrow margin and the daylight saving law was retained by a safe majority.

VICTOR BERGER AND RIVAL BOTH CLAIM VICTORY

Milwaukee, Wis., November 5.—Victor L. Berger, socialist representative in congress from the fifth Wisconsin district, and Ernest A. Braun, republican candidate for the office, both were claiming election tonight as the result of a close race which developed as the final returns came in. They agreed that only the official count could decide the issue.

The republican representatives were swept into office on the tide which gave La Follette his own state. Senator La Follette's lead over President Coolidge continued to mount and was nearing the 100,000 mark as all but approximately 500 precincts in the state had reported. Senator La Follette had 289,620 against 231,096 for Coolidge.

That was Senator Robert M. La Follette's first comment on the election in a statement here Wednesday, in which he called on members of the progressive party to "close ranks and gird themselves for the next battle."

Two Lady Pupils of The Southern Business College Go to Positions Paying $100 a Month at the Start

The "Southern," in Its New Home, Booms As Never Before.

Now is the time to enroll for Business Training. The Presidential election is over, the political upheaval for the past year is at an end, and now business will become normal and rapidly make toward great prosperity. It, therefore, behooves every young man and young woman to make preparation NOW for the incoming tide of business activity.

Without a Business Training young women and young men, too, do well to obtain as much as $30 or $40 a month, and even then the work is of a drug-ery nature.

But, after completing a Shorthand or Bookkeeping course in the Southern Shorthand & Business University, splendid positions are easily obtained at from $60 to $100 per month at the start, and advancement thereafter is rapid.

Only a short time ago, Miss Bertha Connolly went direct from the school room of the "Southern" to a position as stenographer for a big Atlanta firm at $100 a month, and has already received a substantial increase in her salary, which is now nearly $150 per month.

Yesterday, Miss Willie Cunningham, another bright pupil of the Southern, accepted a fine position paying $100 per month at the start.

Several others have gone to pleasant and remunerative positions during the past 10 days.

The beautiful new home of the Southern is attracting many new students to this popular school, the attendance at this time being larger than ever before in the history of this old-established institution.

TECH A. T. O. CHAPTER NAMES REPRESENTATIVE

H. H. Ware, Jr., of the Georgia School of Technology was elected Tuesday at a meeting of the Atlanta alumni association of the Alpha Tau Omega, to represent the association at the national congress of the fraternity to be held in Philadelphia next month.

G. G. Stewart, recently returned to the United States from Honduras, and a former member of the fraternity chapter at the University of Nebraska, was principal speaker at the meeting.

The association meets every Wednesday at 1 o'clock in Blackburn Tea room.

ALDERMEN CONCUR IN ALL MATTERS VOTED BY COUNCIL

All action taken last Monday by general council was approved Wednesday afternoon by the aldermanic board, concurrence being voted on all matters presented. Measures must be approved by the mayor, however, before becoming effective.

Among cases passed on favorably by the aldermen was the sale of Beall park to Fulton county for $45,000, and purchase of Brisbane park with $21,228.25 of the money realized from the sale. The remainder of the total is to be turned in to the general treasury.

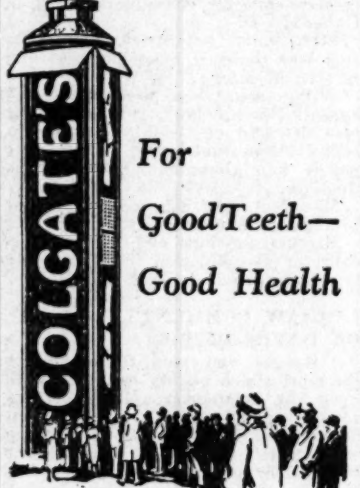

Two matters in which the board previously had voted non-concurrence were approved Wednesday as they concurred in council's action in increasing the salary of the secretary to the chief of construction $25 per month, and awarding the contract for paving of North avenue from Peachtree to Myrtle street to the McDougald Construction company. Both were passed by council Monday after conference committees had reported favorably on them.

The aldermanic board also acted favorably on an appropriation of $500, to be used in entertaining delegates to the annual convention of the Georgia Federation of Women's clubs, which will be held here this month.

While it is thought that the mayor will sign the measure authorizing sale of Beall park, it is generally reported that he will veto the paper providing for purchase of Brisbane park. He also is expected to veto any proposed salary increases.

BARNETT NOW HEAD OF LYRIC COMPANY

Edgar Barnett, the musical comedy producer who gave Jean Eagles, of "Rain," and Pearl White their first theatrical jobs, and who was the first producer to feature Eddie Ross and

EDGAR BARNETT.

Lasses White as leading comedians in his companies, is to be the producer of the new Lyric theater musical comedy company, it was announced Wednesday night by Montague Salmon, manager of the theater.

"The proposed sale of the Lyric theater will not affect the company in any way until April of next year," Mr. Salmon said, "and from what I know of Mr. Barnett's reputation and success as a producer he should be able to make the intervening period the brightest in the Lyric's history."

The new producer arrived Wednesday from New York, where he had gone to assemble a new company after closing an 88-week engagement at the Garden theater in Kansas City, Mo., the third return engagement he had played in Kansas City.

Mr. Barnett has been a prominent figure in the musical comedy field for many years, having been connected with several of the leading producing companies of New York and is the author of several Broadway successes. He writes practically all of the comedies he produces.

"For my Atlanta engagement I have gathered together the best company I have ever headed," Mr. Barnett told a Constitution reporter. "I have been unusually lucky in getting as my star the comedienne I had in Kansas City for a continuous run of 88 weeks, and there she was so popular that the theater management offered to name the theater for her if she would return there with me for another engagement this winter."

HARRIS TO ACCEPT PENSIONS POST, CAPITOL HEARS

Former Governor Nat E. Harris, of Macon, has decided to accept the office of commissioner of pensions for the interim until Captain John W. Clark, elected at the polls, takes office at the end of next June. It was reported at the state capitol Wednesday. The post was tendered Governor Harris by Governor Clifford Walker following the recent death of Major C. E. McGregor, holder of the office.

Governor Harris is one of the best known Confederate veterans in Georgia. In giving him the appointment, it is understood that Governor Walker was largely influenced by the desire to maintain the unbroken precedent of putting a Confederate veteran in the pension commissioner's office.

JURY EMPANELED TO TRY MCCLAIN FOR OWEN'S DEATH

The 12 jurors who will decide the fate of W. T. McClain, indicted for murder in connection with the death of Theodore Owens, were empaneled Wednesday in Judge E. D. Thomas' division of Fulton superior court. The trial will proceed when court reconvenes this morning at 9 o'clock. McClain is charged with fatally wounding Owens, a vaudeville performer, during an altercation at the Southeastern Fair grounds on October 1. The defense contends that Owens died of heart failure, while the indictment charges Owens died of a blow struck by McClain.

O'KEEFE STUDENTS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Raymond Jenkins, 278 West Fourteenth street, and William Reham, of 354 North Jackson street, were elected president and vice president, respectively, of the student body at O'Keefe Junior High school Tuesday at the annual election of student officers. Both of the young men were candidates of the "White" party, one of the political organizations of the school, and the election was held along lines similar to national election systems.

Young Jenkins is a member of the baseball team, while Reham is one of the leaders on the O'Keefe's debating team.

BEST GEORGIA CRACKER IS JUST OFF PRESS

Athens, Ga., November 5.—(Special.)—The Georgia Cracker, monthly college publication for the University of Georgia, is said by students to be better this year than ever before. The first issue of the current year came out this week.

The Cracker was first published in 1920. It is recognized as one of the best college magazines in the southern states.

The Cracker is published by Lester Hargrett, editor-in-chief; James C. Hend, business manager, and J. K. McNeil, art editor.

MANY EXHIBITS SHOWN AT BIG AUSTELL FAIR

Austell, Ga., November 5.—(Special.)—The Austell community fair held today with large attendance. This is the first fair ever held here and proved a success, managers said. Many exhibits were shown. Dr. E. M. Hunt, manager, and committees under him were in charge of details.

COUPLE DETAINED ON WHITE SLAVERY CHARGE BY AGENTS

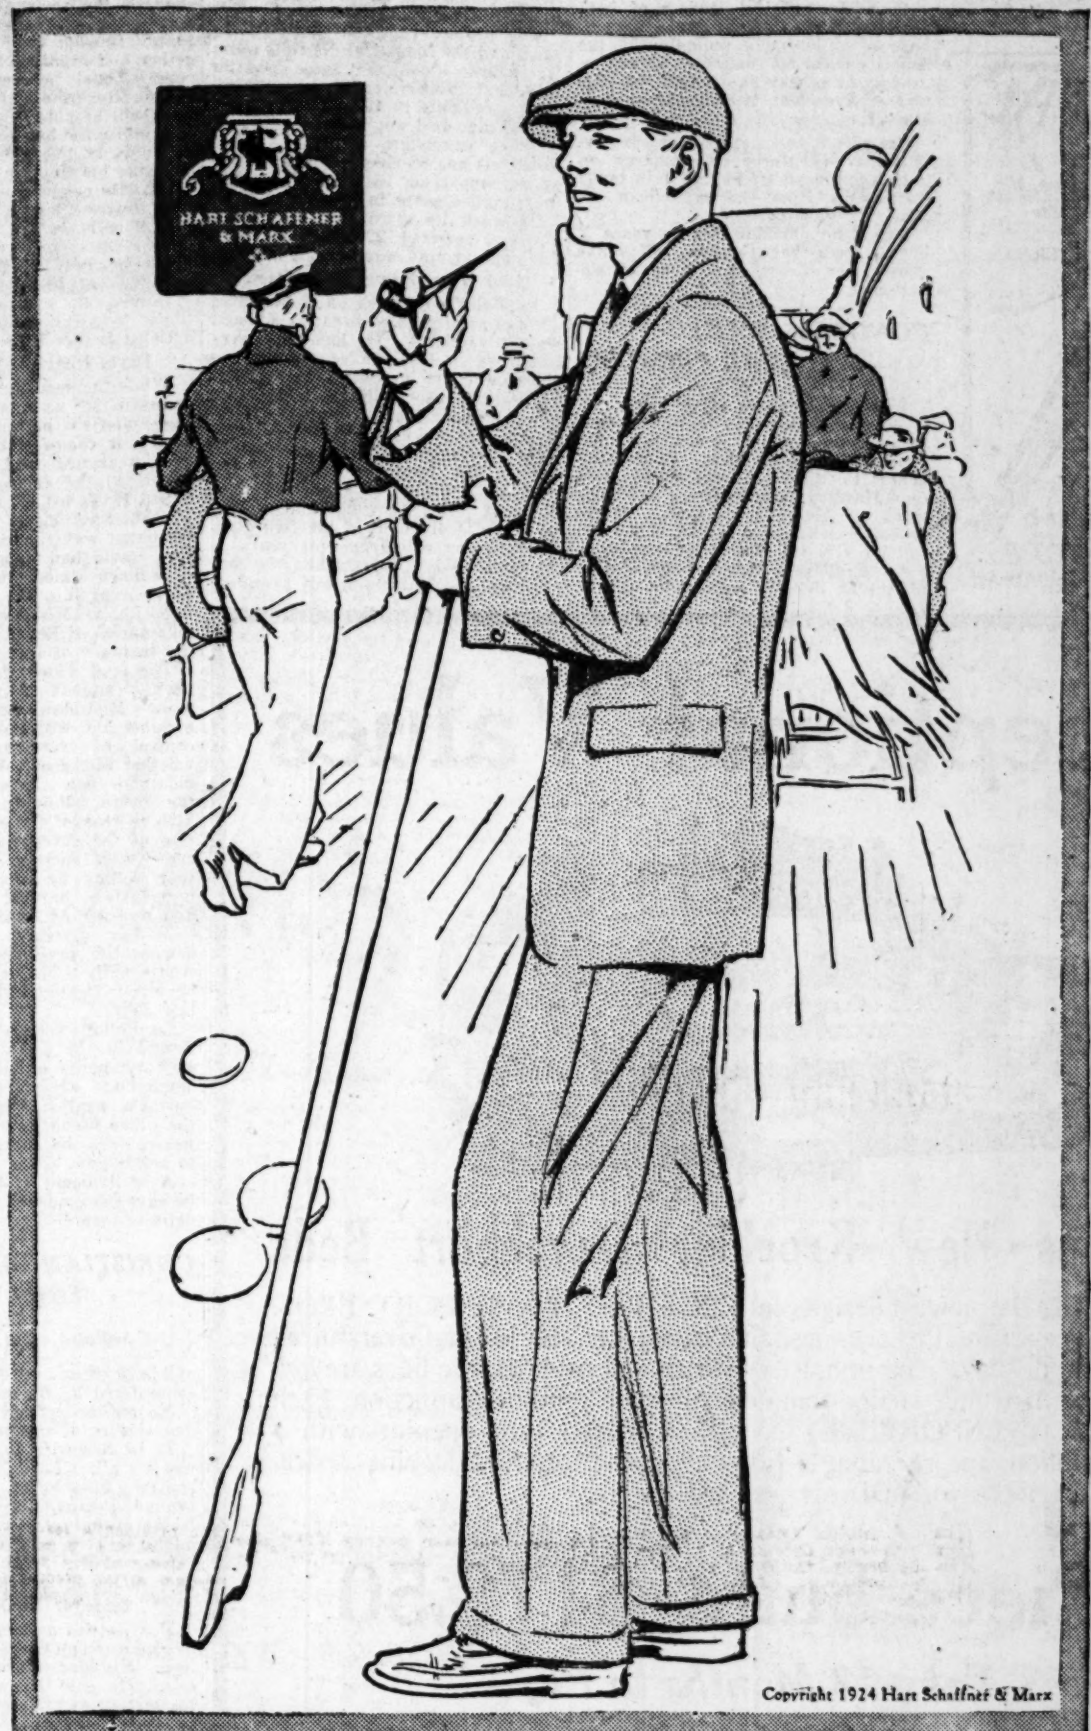

Jack Hampton, who gave his address as Gordon street, Atlanta, was arrested and held on a warrant charging violation of the Mann white-slave act when he appeared at the federal building Wednesday with Pauline Wright, age 19, to make inquiry regarding a case in which the woman already had forfeited bond.

Agents of the department of justice had their suspicions aroused when the young man and his woman companion lingered about the building and, in guarded speech, inquired as to the status of the case in which the woman was involved.

Hampton was detained and the woman was requested to accompany the officers to another room, where she was questioned regarding her associations with Hampton. She was reluctant to answer the questions, but finally admitted, agents reported, that Hampton had accompanied her on a trip through Alabama.

A warrant was issued for Hampton and he was brought before United States Commissioner Joe Abbott. Preliminary hearing was postponed until Thursday. Bond was placed at $2,000, which Hampton declared he could not make.

Commissioner Abbott refused to lower the bond. "I have no evidence except the warrant before me regarding your probable innocence or guilt," the commissioner said, "but I just want to say that it is reported that there are aggravating circumstances in this case. You are charged with one of the most heinous offenses that could come before me and there is no bond that would denote tolerance of such a crime by this court."

Taxes and Telephone Service

THE cost of all forms of government has grown greater during the past few years and necessarily these costs are reflected in the increased taxes every one pays.

The cost of rendering telephone service has also increased, but the rates charged for telephone service have not increased in anything like the same proportion as taxes, wages and other expenses.

The Southern Bell Company's tax bill for the year 1923 in the five states of Alabama, Florida, Georgia and the Carolinas amounted to $1,410,267, or an increase of more than 235 per cent over the tax bill of $419,997 paid in the same States during 1916. During the same period the investment in property increased 82 per cent.

The increase in taxes has been a continuing process, the taxes last year having been at the rate of $5.15 for each telephone in service and an increase of 168 per cent over the tax bill of $525,334 in 1917.

In Georgia alone last year's tax bill was $485,345, an increase of more than 191 per cent since 1916.

Although taxes form such a large part of telephone operating expenses, the Telephone Company has no objection to paying its just share of taxes, and pays cheerfully.

These facts are published so that telephone users may know the details of some of the major expenses which are reflected in the cost of their service.

NILES IS FREED OF MARTIAL LAW

Columbus, Ohio, November 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Governor Donahay at 6 o'clock tonight signed a proclamation lifting qualified martial law at Niles. The military had been in control of the city since last Saturday, when riots followed attempted parades by Klan and anti-Klan forces.

Although martial law has been lifted, the military board of inquiry, appointed by the governor to investigate causes of the outbreak, will continue with its duties and make a full report to the governor.

Canada Cabinet To Discuss Plan For U.S. Embassy

Ottawa, Ont., November 5.—A cabinet meeting to discuss the appointment of an ambassador to the United States will be called as soon as Premier King returns to Ottawa. It was announced Wednesday night. If Canada sends an envoy to Washington it would be in line with the action of the Irish Free state which, with the consent of England, is represented at Washington by a minister.

Canadian political leaders of both parliamentary factions feel that all hope of obtaining a reduction in the American tariffs against Canadian products was eliminated with the election of President Coolidge to succeed himself.

CONGRESS MAKEUP IS REAL PROBLEM

Tremendous vote of confidence the country has given him. This may amount to 18,000,000—2,000,000 more than Harding received and a new high mark in American politics. Davis probably will have about 8,000,000 and La Follette about half that number. Coolidge's electoral vote—now placed at 273—is impressive, but it was exceeded by Wilson, who received 435 in 1912, and Harding, who had 404 in 1920. Davis has probably 130. La Follette has only Wisconsin's 13. Though his followers still hope that final returns will pull him ahead in Minnesota, Montana, Nevada and North Dakota.

Coolidge Wins Home States

Davis appears to have lost even the border states, except for Oklahoma and Tennessee. Coolidge even captured Davis' home state of West Virginia and he swept across Maryland, Kentucky, Missouri, and even up into Bryan's own Nebraska.

La Follette's popular vote, while larger in proportion than his electoral showing might indicate, still fell short of the expectations of both his friends and his opponents. A month ago the republicans feared La Follette might carry California, but Coolidge seems to have it by about 200,000.

The protest vote fell down in the rural and the industrial districts alike. He polled about the same popular vote that Roosevelt got as a third-party candidate in 1912, though won an immense vote in the industrial belt. In that campaign, as it is today, Roosevelt got 88 electoral votes. Another comparison may be made with the populist party in the campaign of 1892 when its third-party candidate, Weaver, received 22 electoral votes. His popular vote was about 1,000,000.

Had Two Heavy Lieutenants.
La Follette's attack on the existing state of affairs failed to strike a really responsive chord. He had two heavy lieutenants in his war record and his supreme court proposal, for it was upon these—especially the latter, that the populist party in the campaign of 1912 had expected to find a protest vote against economic conditions. But improved crops in the rural and the fear of depression in the east sided Coolidge and robbed La Follette of much of his following. Politicians will argue for years as to why Coolidge, disregarding the conventional stage trappings of presidential campaigns, pulled off such a feat. The feud which was repressed during the campaign may break out again soon. McKelvie's machine still hangs together and will make a fight to gain control of the party organization whether McKelvie expects to be a candidate or not. Equally ambitious is the Smith following, which is riding high in view of the sensational reelection of the governor. Any man who can breast such a tide as Coolidge sent rolling at him and come out winner is a natural born vote-getter and as such La Follette is likely to be a leading contender again for the democratic presidential nomination. And equally probable is the same sort of bitter fight which was witnessed last July.

La Follette's hope had been to run second in the popular vote, capture such remnants of the democratic organizations as he could and set up business against the republicans as the other major party. But that objective will be much more difficult to reach now.

A realignment of the parties seems to have been pushed back into the indefinite future.

CHRISTIAN CHIEF LOPS LAST TITLE

of his property, all of which has been sequestered by the republic.

No reason was given for the sudden seizure of the boy emperor.

It is generally believed that Peng and his ally Chang Tso-Lin, who now control Manchuria and the area around Peking, have been defeated troops of General Wu Pei-Fu might seek to rally China to a tardy defense of P' U, who has been a prisoner in the forbidden city since 1912.

Emperor Smiles Glibly.
P' U smiled as he placed his graphic signature on the articles of abdication. His long imprisonment is at an end. He said he was glad to lose his last titles and that now he hoped to travel—perhaps to visit England and America.

Peng has agreed to continue an annuity of approximately $250,000 to P' U. When the abdication of 1912 he retained the title as emperor of the Manchurian imperial house which was to lapse at his death. He also was permitted to keep large real estate holdings and other property which had been accumulated by his ancestors since 1644, when the first Manchu ascended the throne.

Has Several Wives.
P' U now is a private citizen, possessed of a few more wives than is the custom of the western world, well educated and unfortunately last incumbent of a throne that pagan for pagan and jewel for jewel, outshone the most pretentious monarchies of the west.

Destitute Manchu Will Benefit by their chief's abdication. The republic has decided to appropriate $1,000,000 to establish factories where they may work and earn enough to live.

The Manchus brought their mansions tumbling about their ears when the dowager empress investigated the ancient house has been declining. The extent of its decay may be reckoned from the fact that a chief of police who ancestors probably were slopping and in rice fields when P' U's were at the height of their glory, boldly entered the imperial palace and ordered the Manchus to sign on the dotted line.

Shed All Jibes of Foes.
Coolidge had a well-financed and efficient organization behind him, but that alone would not have produced 18,000,000 votes unless the candidate had genuinely appealed to the voters. Opponents tried to puncture what they termed the "Coolidge myth," but none of the jibes appear to have hurt the president, and in fact they may have reacted in his favor.

La Follette forces deny they are discouraged by their difficulties in this election. They have already decided to try to hold their organization together and organize for a fight in the congressional campaign of next year. Regardless of whether La Follette will be able in the next congress to exercise the balance of power which he continues in the present one, he will continue his fight for the issue of the progressives wherever possible. Even if he is certain to be voted down, on the basis of this record an attempt will be made to elect a bigger progressive bloc in 1928.

Unless they're torn apart by factional rivalry the progressives will have a ticket in the 1928 election.

Davis Heavily Handicapped.
While the democratic party was not "amplified" as some predicted when La Follette's movement was at its height, it comes out of the campaign in a weakened condition. Davis disappointed the democrats as a candidate. He failed to get into his stride. The chief criticisms made against his campaign were that he was too gentle. But Davis had handicaps enough to slow down almost any candidate. His party went into the campaign embittered by the McKelvie-Smith feud. The nomination of Bryan—though made at the instance of Davis was a liability.

The feud which was repressed during the campaign may break out again soon. McKelvie's machine still hangs together and will make a fight to gain control of the party organization whether McKelvie expects to be a candidate or not. Equally ambitious is the Smith following, which is riding high in view of the sensational reelection of the governor. Any man who can breast such a tide as Coolidge sent rolling at him and come out winner is a natural born vote-getter and as such La Follette is likely to be a leading contender again for the democratic presidential nomination. And equally probable is the same sort of bitter fight which was witnessed last July.

La Follette's hope had been to run second in the popular vote, capture such remnants of the democratic organizations as he could and set up business against the republicans as the other major party. But that objective will be much more difficult to reach now.

A realignment of the parties seems to have been pushed back into the indefinite future.

GEORGIA FAITHFUL TO OLD STANDARD

for the city of Savannah was reported badly defeated.

Henry M. Stanley, republican, was indicated as elected to the legislature from Fannin county.

Polk county went democratic for the second time in 60 years. This is the home county of United States Senator William J. Harris.

Returns received fail to give La Follette a single county in the state. A dispatch from Mount Airy states that Coolidge got the majority in the Center Hill district by three votes, while the amendments to the constitution failed to carry. Otherwise, it was stated, the democratic primary was confirmed.

Tattall Divides.
While Davis carried Tattall county by a wide margin, La Follette ran far ahead of Coolidge in that county. The complete returns give Davis 1,200, Coolidge 150, La Follette 600.

County also voted against a biennial session of the legislature at a ratio of 3 to 1 and defeated the tax receiver and tax collector consolidation proposal when the vote fell.

La Follette carried 190 to 20 votes. The manufacturers' exemption and tax collector-receiver consolidation and coastal paving amendments were defeated in this county, but others carried.

Burke county is reported as voting against the Peach county amendment. Pike county also voted against the creation of Peach county.

Biennial sessions was the only amendment approved by the requisite two-thirds majority in Taylor county. The amendment for consolidation of the offices of tax receiver and collector was defeated in Ben Hill county.

Taliaferro county failed to ratify the amendments on manufacturers' tax exemptions, tax receiver and tax collector consolidation and city and county government consolidation.

The only amendment which failed of passage in Clarke county was that to consolidate offices of tax receiver and tax collector.

The manufacturers' tax exemption and Peach county amendments were running behind in Floyd county, all others having a safe margin on incomplete returns.

La Follette ran ahead of Coolidge in Barrow county, getting 174 votes against 88. Davis got 301.

Duff On Amendments.
Consolidation of the offices of tax collector and tax receiver was defeated overwhelmingly in Richmond county, 865 voting for this amendment and 2,505 against it.

Peach county was defeated in Echols county, as well as the manufacturers' tax exemption and consolidation of city and county government amendments.

La Follette got 116 votes in Franklin county, to 109 for Coolidge and 618 for Davis.

Gray county failed to ratify only one of the eight proposed constitutional amendments, that exempting new industries from taxes for a period of years.

Echols county gave every vote to Davis. Neither Coolidge nor La Follette got any.

Fannin county went for Coolidge, giving him 1,650 votes to 1,079 for Davis. La Follette got no votes in Fannin.

Consolidation of the offices of tax collector and tax receiver did not receive the approval of the requisite two-thirds of the voters in Butts county. The vote on this amendment in Butts was 172 to 104.

Manufacturers' tax exemption and tax receiver-receiver consolidation amendments failed to pass in Webster county.

Davis Pressed.
La Follette polled a heavy vote in McDuffie. He got 256 votes, Davis 267 and Coolidge 37. Consolidation of the tax receiver and tax collector offices was disproved in this county, 102 to 236.

Manufacturers' tax exemption and tax receiver-receiver consolidation amendments failed of passage in Murray county.

Milton county defeated the Peach county, manufacturers' tax exemption, tax collector-receiver consolidation and city-county government consolidation amendments.

Three amendments apparently were defeated in Oconee county. They were the manufacturers' tax exemption, tax collector-receiver consolidation and city-county government consolidation proposals.

Coolidge won in Pickens county. The vote there was for Davis, 750; Coolidge, 1,148; La Follette, 4. Peach county failed to get the requisite two-thirds majority by a slim margin, 273 voting for it to 146 against.

The manufacturers' tax exemption amendment was defeated by a vote of 124 to 120, tax receiver-receiver consolidation by 201 to 150, city-county government consolidation by 118 to 77.

Savannah's port terminal bond amendment was the only one to lose in Mitchell county. For this proposal the county voted 376 to 351 against it.

Against New County.
Peach county badly defeated in Lumpkin county, when only 75 voted for it, against 145. Biennial sessions also lost, 82 to 137, and all other proposed constitutional amendments were likewise defeated.

Four precincts in Quitman county voted against all constitutional amendments.

Peach county was the only constitutional amendment to lose in Troup county. The vote there on the new county was 738 to 470, lacking the requisite two-thirds majority.

Biennial sessions was the only constitutional amendment approved in Paulding county, getting 422 votes in favor to 164 against.

Eight precincts in Marion county defeated Peach county, biennial sessions, manufacturers' tax exemption and tax collector-receiver consolidation, but ratified the other amendments.

Peach county was the only amendment to fail of ratification in Union county.

Tax receiver-receiver consolidation was the only amendment to lose in Wilkes county.

Peach county and tax receiver-collector consolidation lost in Polk county.

Coolidge Wins.
Coolidge defeated Davis in Haralson county, getting 670 votes to 487.

Tax receiver-collector consolidation lost in Evans county.

Peach county was the only amendment lost in Morgan county.

Manufacturers' tax exemption was the only losing amendment in Cherokee county.

Manufacturers' tax exemption and coastal highway bonds were the losing amendments in Deatur county.

Fifteen out of 16 precincts in Jones county show Peach county the only amendment which failed of ratification.

Peach county, manufacturers' tax exemption and city-county government lost in Gordon county.

Manufacturers' tax exemption was the only amendment to lose in Wayne county.

Tax receiver-collector consolidation and city-county government consolidation lost in Madison county.

The coastal highway bond amendment failed to secure the necessary two-thirds vote for ratification in Glynn county, the largest of the seven counties affected.

Peach Loses Another.
Manufacturers' tax exemption failed to get its necessary two-thirds vote in Macon county, while the Peach county amendment did not even get a majority, 505 voting against it to 417 for.

Peach county, Brunswick bonds, manufacturers' tax exemption, city-county government consolidation and Savannah bonds all lost in Heard county.

Peach county was overwhelmingly defeated in Pike county, 289 to 653.

Manufacturers' tax exemption, city-county government consolidation and coastal paving bonds also lost.

Peach county, Brunswick bonds, manufacturers' tax exemption and tax receiver-collector consolidation lost in Catoosa.

City-county government consolidation was the only amendment to lose in Carroll county.

Wilkes county emphatically voted against Peach county, 296 to 611. It also defeated city-county government consolidation and gave La Follette nearly four times as many votes as Coolidge.

Manufacturers' tax exemption lost in Clayton county.

Biennial sessions and tax receiver-collector consolidation were the only two amendments to lose in Telfair.

UPSHAW COMMENTS ON DAVIS' DEFEAT.
"Bought and paid for—that's the label which history ought to place upon the republican victory of November 4. Of course, this is no indictment of many honest republicans who were chained by heridity or hypnotized by mystical silence; but it is an indictment of party leadership which condoned and harbored and crowned corruption in high places and that deliberately dedicated $3,700,000 to unholy uses in carrying an election."

"Let the discriminating citizen think of the difference between a democratic fund of $3,700,000 and a republican fund of $3,700,000, and imagine what was done with the difference. Let them remember, too, that this huge fund used by the republican leaders was not paid by protected plutocracy—for 'big business' was only the channel through which the money was collected and paid out, and a robber tariff, which made the huge incomes possible, was the governmental sheriff that levied the tax and foreclosed on the helpless masses. For the people, after all, paid for their own undoing."

T. P. Thompson Dies.
New Orleans, November 5.—Thomas Payne Thompson, 64 years old, associated with many of the charitable, social and business organizations of New Orleans, author and clubman, died here today following a brief illness. He was a native of Montgomery, Ala.

SIX BANDITS LOOT BANK AND PATRONS OF $3,500; ESCAPE

Bunker Hill, Ill., November 5.—Six heavily armed bandits held up employees and six patrons of the First National bank here late today and escaped with $3,500, while groups of citizens were standing on the street near the bank.

CABINET SHAKE-UP SEEN AS PROBABLE

ent cabinet, it seems reasonably certain that Secretary of War Weeks, Attorney General Stone and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will retain their portfolios during the next administration, though there are rumors of change involving some of them.

Secretary Mellon's departure from the cabinet was talked some months ago on the basis that he would like to get back into private life. However, it is said that Mellon has become intensely interested in his position, and is likely to stay.

Secretary Hughes seems fixed. He campaigned vigorously for Coolidge. There has been talk, however, even in his case, that he wanted to get back into private life. If he should leave, it is rumored that George Harvey, former ambassador to Great Britain, would get the place. Harvey took an advisory part in the campaign and was a valuable aid.

May Recall Roosevelt.
There is also a report that former Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt may be brought back into the administration as secretary of the navy, taking the place of Curtis D. Wilbur. Roosevelt ran a strong race in New York, and his influence there would be valuable in case Coolidge should enter the race for a third term.

The president is now considering a successor to Wallace, who may be named in the next few weeks. Several names have been suggested, but no indication given as to who will get the place. Samuel Adams, of Illinois, is mentioned most prominently.

New Way to Take Cod Liver Oil—Greatest Tonic and Builder of Firm Flesh and Sturdy Bones in the World

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets

Of course, all mothers—and grandmothers too for that matter—know that the greatest builder of firm, healthy flesh in thin, puny, run down children is cod liver oil, and especially where there are any signs of Rickets.

But here's something every mother doesn't know—Cod Liver Oil helps to make strong, healthy bones—and even helps to make better teeth.

Yes, it's true! Doctors know it. Dentists know it—chemists know it. And now here's another surprise! No more will the kiddies have to take the vile, nasty tasting, evil smelling oil that nine times in ten disturbs their sensitive stomachs and almost turns them inside out.

Never again! Thank goodness, will they even have to smell the vile stuff, for now science has given us—and people who keep up with the times are taking—McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets—sugar coated and as easy to take as candy.

So now you can go ahead and make the sickly youngsters strong and well—make the puny one sturdy and full of pep—make the skinny one put on good flesh—and if any one of them has Rickets you can conquer that too.

Another: Try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets for 30 days if any of your children aren't up to par. You'll be surprised at the quick help they will give them, and if you aren't satisfied with results, Jacobs' Pharmacy Co., or the drugstore you purchased them from, will return your money. One New Jersey boy gained 11 1/2 pounds in 7 weeks. Be sure and get the original and genuine McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets—(adv.)

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to destroy the germ, absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung troubles, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

America Dreams Of World Empire Declares Trotsky

Moscow, November 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—War Minister Trotsky, in a lengthy speech concerning the aims of the red army, today bitterly arraigned American "militarism and capitalism," which, he declared, were being developed into forces of annihilation.

"The United States is assuming a place in the arena of militarism far beyond the dreams of Balkanized Europe," he declared. "The United States possesses half the horsepower of the universe and more than half of the world's gold."

Arguing that the world war was fought mainly to gain the superiority of the United States over England, and England's superiority over France, the war minister continued: "American industry and gold power is being transformed into the steam of American militarism. American capitalism has reached the limit of its power in home markets and is compelled to seek expansion abroad. This being impossible by economic means, the United States will be forced to overthrow European countries by military power. . . . American militarism is raising its head high above the whole world as an advancing, destructive power—the power of a bloody coup d'état. America will try and foment trouble abroad to make European and Asiatic states fight against each other while American capitalists finance them as a commercial enterprise. No matter who is elected president, American militarism will continue to grow as high as a mountain. World bolshevism is the only real obstacle in its path."

HARRY WOODRUFF DIES OF INJURIES AFTER AUTO CRASH

Athens, Ga., November 5.—Harry Woodruff, prominent insurance man of Columbus, Ga., and one of Georgia university's greatest football players, died here this morning following an automobile accident last Friday night.

Woodruff, in company with his brother Jim, Alfred Young and Jim Kelley, all of Columbus, were driving to Athens from Columbus for the annual "homecoming" football game, and when about 12 miles from this city, the car turned over rounding a sharp curve and Woodruff, who was driving, sustained a broken spine. Other occupants were not seriously injured. The victims were brought to a local hospital. The former football star never rallied.

Harry Woodruff was known as the original "Kid" Woodruff of Georgia football fame, having played on the Georgia teams from 1902 to 1905, making a run against Auburn for 105 yards in Atlanta that made him famous. He was 39 years old and in 1912 married Miss Frances Henley, of Athens, who survives him. He is also survived by two brothers, Jim and George, the latter being head coach of football at Georgia university; a sister, Mrs. Clifford Swift, of Columbus, and his mother, Mrs. Henry L. Woodruff, of Columbus. He was a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity and the Presbyterian church. His body was shipped to Columbus Wednesday afternoon. Funeral arrangements will be made there.

ALLEGED "SHINER" HELD

Man Who Fled When Freed To Make Bond Retaken.

Tallahassee, Fla., November 5.—(Special.)—Being "A. W. O. L." for a period of three months after Sheriff G. B. Richards, of Haralson county, had extended him the courtesy of recognition on his own bond long enough to make a trip from Polk county to Buchanan, has just been ended for Oscar Connell, who was arrested a week ago in Jonesboro, Ark. Connell was lodged in the Haralson county jail this week by Deputy Sheriff W. H. Swint, who made the long trip to Arkansas for the prisoner, the wife and two children of the prisoner returning with the officer and defendant.

Three months or more ago Connell was arrested by Polk county officers while in a raid on stills near the county line and a charge of violation of the prohibition law was made against him. He convinced the Polk county officers that the alleged offense has been committed in this county and he was turned over to the Haralson county officers. Sheriff Richards telephoned to Cedartown and instructed the officers to release the prisoner and direct him to report at Buchanan. He appeared, and when allowed to go to Buchanan to get bondsmen, disappeared.

Lethbridge, Alberta.—According to a report from the farm of Smith Bros., near Cardston, has maintained an average in wheat of 42 bushels an acre for eleven years.

Orphanage for Colored Youth Lauds Chest Plan

(Editor's Note: This is the seventh of a series of articles furnished by the Atlanta Community Chest to acquaint the public with the work of the agencies of the chest, which The Constitution is running to aid the campaign which began Wednesday, November 5.)

Not one of the agencies of uplift in Atlanta, perhaps has felt more directly and more effectively the benefits of the Community Chest than those interested in the betterment of the colored race. Nor are any of the institutions connected with this charity more responsive in their appreciation or more enthusiastic in their praise of the system through which sustaining resources come.

Especially grateful to the Community Chest for funds paid to it during the current year is the Leonard Street Orphanage, home for colored girls. Those in charge of this institution are profuse in their praises of the chest system and point to many blessings received by the orphanage during the past year as result of the central organization for gathering funds.

The Leonard Street Orphanage, situated at 39 Leonard street, is said to be an institution where every child has been made by its leaders to remove any suggestion of the term institution in its traditional acceptance. That a splendid work is being accomplished by the home was proven to the writer during a recent visit when 55 or more colored girls passed in review. But for this home every one of these girls might have been on the streets adding to the delinquencies of the race and increasing the social problem of the city.

Founded in 1890, Leonard Street Orphanage was founded in 1890 by Mrs. L. M. Lawson, of East St. Louis, Illinois, and it was taken in charge about 25 years ago by Amy Chadwick, of Eastbourne, England, who has remained with the home continuously since that time. She has given the best of her efforts to adding to its effectiveness as a real training school for colored orphans, despite the fact that she has been compelled to leave her faith and prayer for the greater part of her material resources until the establishment of the Community Chest. The fact that the chest provides a sum sufficient to meet the budget expense, it was declared, has released workers from the duty of soliciting, thereby allowing them to devote their time and effort to the development of the home and the training of its inmates.

The old frame house that serves as quarters for this charity is utterly inadequate for the needs of the institution. It is to be replaced by an up-to-date structure that will add greatly to the comfort of the children and permit of a more comprehensive training in domestic science and other useful occupations. The present building, it is stated, is more than 60 years old, having served as quarters for Sherman's garrison in 1864. The institution stands across Leonard street, from Spelman seminary, from which it receives many benefits, such as free education for girls, medical, surgical and hospital treatment, gratis, for each inmate, and instructions as to health and modern sanitation.

Method of Training. A tour of the old building disclosed that each girl has been taught well the lessons of cleanliness and sanitation. From the reception room and chapel, on the ground floor, through every room in the big structure, there was an aspect of neatness and order that indicated training of the most careful types. Cleanliness appeared to be the watchword also in the kitchen, the cheerful dining room and every other department. Plenty of bath, toilet accessories, etc., are provided and there was every evidence of regular use, of tooth brushes, bath tubs and other requirements of a wholesome life.

That this is a worthy charity justified in its existence by its service to humanity was evidenced by the 50 or more well-dressed, contented colored girls. "In this number, varying from about four years of age to fifteen," said an official of the orphanage, "are to be found all classes and types, and but for this home many of them perhaps would today be numbered among the delinquent youths inhabiting our streets and alleys, adding to the perplexity of the social problem."

Perfume is popular in Chile and 17 firms there now manufacture the scent-giving liquid.

"Ma" Ferguson Says People CAMOUFLAGE OF HOODS TORN ASIDE, SHE CLAIMS HAVE Decried Doom of Klan

BY MRS. MIRIAM A. FERGUSON, Governor-elect of Texas.

Temple, Texas, November 5.—Still loyal to the ideals of true democracy I never lost confidence in the outcome of the election. I know that Texans are men and women of honest action and frank utterances. They quickly discerned the camouflage by which the Ku Klux Klan sought to fasten its malignant, poisonous fangs upon state government. The Klan under the guidance of its grand dragon pitched a campaign against me upon a plane of contemptible innuendo.

The people have seen the trail of these river bottom censors of public morals and have spoken in a voice not to be misunderstood. Now, let us hope that citizens in this state will be permitted to pursue their way without molestation from grand dragons and night prowlers with lash and tar bucket.

Issue Was Clear. My gratitude to the splendid democrats of Texas and my republican supporters is unbounded. My majority is convincing and the issue was clear. I am proud of my state and its people.

Will Carry into the office with which my people have entrusted me firm determination to fill to the limit of human ability all the promises that I have made them and I shall be governor of all the people of Texas, discharging my duty in obedience to the oath of office, the constitution of the state and mindful of its glorious history.

As a daughter of Texas, I cherish the sacred memories and traditions which make the state unique in world history as the only example of a free independent republic hauling down its flag and voluntarily joining the sisterhood of American states. I want to assure the people that the democratic ideal will not suffer while I am their governor.

as the official depository for the funds derived from the sale of tags and forgotten mementos, will supervise all the fiscal details.

Officers, both of the Service Star Legion and of the disabled veterans' organization, are confident on the eve of "Forget-Me-Not" day that this year's proceeds, which go in their entirety to the care of needy and destitute wounded and disabled service men and their families, will be greater than at any time since the inauguration of "Forget-Me-Not" day by the late President Harding four years ago, as a result of the intensive campaign which was begun several months ago in the cities and towns in the state than ever before.

Districts Join In. In practically all sections of the state plans for observance of the day have been completed and leading women of the state are at the helm.

In the 12th district Mrs. C. H. Kittrell, head of the district federation of women's clubs, is in charge and has named chairmen for the day's activities in a number of cities in that district, as follows:

Mrs. Will Stiles, Saperton, Ga.; Mrs. R. E. L. Parsons, Abbeville, Ga.; Mrs. Lee Jordan, Hawkinsville, Ga.; Mrs. B. F. Brown, Lyons, Ga.; Mrs. Cleveland Meadows, Vidalia, Ga.; Mrs. Frank Singletree, Whitesville, Ga.; Miss Wilma Orr, Fort Valley, Ga.; Mrs. C. M. Methvin, Eastman, Ga.; Mrs. Arthur Thompson, Swainsboro, Ga.

This is the first time since "Forget-Me-Not" day was designated that the 12th district has joined so wholeheartedly in the observance, according to State Commander A. Harbort. Many other cities in the state are observing the day for the first time, it is said, and expectations are held for a considerable sum of money will be obtained.

Proclamation on Friday, November 7, annual "Forget-Me-Not" day will be observed in Atlanta.

"Whereas, 'Forget-Me-Not' day is sponsored by national headquarters of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, and is endorsed by President Coolidge, who has urged a liberal public response to the veterans' appeal on that day;

"Whereas, tags symbolic of the object of the day will be sold on the streets of the city November 7 and the proceeds applied to assistance for the disabled veterans;

"Whereas, this is a worthy philanthropy which every patriotic Atlantian should be glad to support.

"Therefore, I, Walter A. Sims, mayor of the city of Atlanta, do issue my proclamation and express the hope that the appeal of the veterans will be rewarded with liberal donations.

"Given under my hand this 18th day of October, 1924.

"WALTER A. SIMS, Mayor."

MEMBER OF TEDDY'S "ROUGH RIDERS" DIES IN MEXICO

New York, November 5.—Reginald Ronalds, son of the late Pierre Lorillard Ronalds, one of Colonel Roosevelt's "rough riders" and for many years prominent in New York society, is dead of heart disease in Sinaloa, Mexico, a telegram received here by Ralph Bloomer, capitalist, stated.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2. and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they have never kept house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full quart of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It's really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, get your drugist for ½ ounce of Pinex with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded.

The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

15-YEAR-OLD BOY DIES OF WOUNDS RECEIVED SUNDAY

Frank Johnson, 15-year-old son of George Johnson, who resides on Crooked road, died at Grady hospital shortly after midnight Thursday as the result of a gunshot wound in his right leg, inflicted, police say, by William Campbell, Louis of Crooked road, when Campbell said the boy was found in his yard last Sunday night.

County police said Campbell would not be arrested until the matter was investigated today.

A load of shot entered young Johnson's leg below the knee and his wound resulted from complications which set in as a result of the wound, doctors say.

Campbell said he fired on the youth with buckshot.

G. O. P. GAINS 21 SEATS IN HOUSE AND SENATE Continued from First Page.

ed J. C. Walton, the democratic candidate who ran on an anti-Ku Klux Klan platform.

Other republicans elected to the senate or who had substantial leads over their opponents were T. Coleman Du Pont, of Delaware, who defeated James Tunnel, democrat; Charles S. Deneen, who came in ahead of a field of six in Illinois; Senators Capper, of Kansas; Borah, of Idaho; Couzens, of Michigan, for both the short and long terms; Norris, of Nebraska; Heyes, New Hampshire; Edge, of New Jersey, and McNary, of Oregon; Jesse H. Metcalf, of Rhode Island; W. H. McMaster, of South Dakota, and Guy D. Goff, of West Virginia.

House Upsets Scattered. Democrats elected are: Heflin, Alabama; Robinson, Arkansas; Harris, Georgia; Ransdell, Louisiana; Harrison, Mississippi; Simmons, North Carolina; Blease, South Carolina; Tyson, Tennessee; Sheppard, Texas, and Carter Glass, Virginia.

The upsets in the house were widely scattered over the country. The democrats lost the six seats they now have in Pennsylvania, but they elected their candidate over his republican opponent in another Pennsylvania district. They lost four of their six seats in New Jersey, two in Indiana, one in Illinois, one in Ohio, Michigan, Delaware, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Oregon and Nevada.

They gained a district in Maryland, one in Kansas and elected their candidate in the eighth Ohio district over the republican incumbent.

Returns to the house of both the floor leaders—Longworth, Ohio, of the republicans, and Barrett, Tennessee, of the democrats—was assured, while it appeared that there would be no upsets in the New York delegation, the largest in the house, despite the heavy Coolidge plurality in the Empire State.

La Follette Retains Seat. Among those returned in New York was Representative LaFollette, of the twentieth district, an avowed La Follette supporter, who ran as an independent, and Jacobstein, an upstate democrat, who had La Follette in endorsement. The La Follette forces held their strength in Wisconsin and several of their allies in nearby states, among them Sinclair, North Dakota; Clegg and Keller, Minnesota; Reid and Michaelson, Illinois, and Woodruff and James, Michigan, who ran as republicans, and Kvale and Wefard, farmer-labor, Minnesota, were re-elected.

Representative Langley, republican, Kentucky, who is under sentence to the federal penitentiary on charges of having violated the prohibition law, obtained a vote of confidence from the voters of his district, who returned him for another term, while in the sixth Maryland, Representative Zihlman, republican, who was exonerated by a house committee which investigated charges that he used official influence improperly, won additional vindication from voters in his district.

One woman, Mrs. Mary T. Norton, of New Jersey, will sit in the next house, the first woman to represent a congressional district east of the Mississippi.

Borger Re-elected. Victor Berger, of Wisconsin, socialist, was re-elected to the house.

In three of the four states whose decision remained in the balance—Montana, Nevada and North Dakota—Coolidge was leading, but La Follette was trimming down the republican lead and Davis was trailing a poor third.

In North Dakota and Montana the preponderance of Coolidge strength was considerable, while in Nevada his lead was almost insurmountable as the late returns rolled up the total for La Follette.

The dispute in New Mexico was between Davis and Coolidge, with Davis losing a comparatively slender lead.

Among the La Follette leaders there were continued predictions of further Coolidge gains as the country sections of the states still in dispute sent in their reports. To some extent their expectations had been borne out during the day, but the republicans still hoped that not only Montana, Nevada and North Dakota would be retained, but that in the end Coolidge would take New Mexico from Davis.

Iowa Is Coolidge Landslide. This hope grew as Minnesota and Iowa, two of the states on which La Follette had staked his expectations, continued during the day to roll up a Coolidge majority. In Iowa the Coolidge victory began to assume the proportions of a landslide, with the republicans counting almost two votes to La Follette's one, while in Minnesota the day's figures appeared to give Coolidge indisputable command.

Taken all in all, and considered in the light of the fate it dealt out to local as well as presidential candidates in the west and northwest, this situation represented a tremendous swing backward of the pendulum which two years ago turned the policies of the western country upside down, sent two farmer-labor senators to Washington, almost swept away the nominal republican majority in the house and gave La Follette a balance of power and a virtual veto over the republican administration.

At least two interesting figures in the recent political life of the capital, Senator Magnus John, of Minnesota, and Senator Smith Brookhart, of Iowa, appeared tonight to have been left high and dry by recession of the La Follette tide which in 1922 rose quite as suddenly as it now has fallen. Senator Brookhart, a boom companion of La Follette in senate politics, had conceded his defeat at the hands of a democrat who received the open support of many republican leaders. At the same time his figures took an upward swing. Senator Johnson, however, who sought reelection on the farmer-labor ticket with La Follette's support, still insisted that the full returns would elect him despite a constantly lead held on the day's returns by his republican opponents.

La Follette Sun Wanes. Two years ago both Minnesota and Iowa, as well as the Dakotas and other sections of the northwest, appeared to be one vast conflagration of unrest, with the man from Wisconsin as the towering figure that embodied all hope of relief. As recently as last summer Brookhart swept everything before him in Iowa when he sought renomination against the republican organization of Iowa, while in South Dakota Senator Sterling, a republican regular of regulars, was denied a renomination at a republican primary.

Now La Follette not only has failed to make an appreciable dent in the electoral strength of Coolidge. He has seen some of the ranking lieutenants go down before the overwhelming counter offensive of the republican administration and may even have lost his hold on a sufficient group in senate and house to force his recognition as an important factor in legislation.

It is the apparent belief of the La Follette men that even as matters stand he will be able to hold together some semblance of a national party organization for use in future campaigns. In a statement issued today at Madison, the senator declared he would go on as he had begun, and called on his followers "to close ranks and fight themselves for the next battle." His running mate, Senator Wheeler, elected to the senate from Montana as a democrat, also publicly reaffirmed his allegiance to the cause of his adoption, but made no reference to future party affiliations. It remains to be seen whether the American Federation of Labor, whose executive council joined in the active promotion of the La Follette-Wheeler campaign, will retain its connection with such a permanent independent movement as Senator La Follette apparently has in mind.

How To End a Cough Quickly

Specialists say to actually end a cough in the shortest possible time the medicine should not only soothe and heal the soreness and irritation, but should also loosen and remove the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. When this is done the worst cough quickly disappears.

This "double-action" method has been brought to perfection in the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. A few drops stop the coughing spells almost instantly, and people who have hardly been able to sleep at night for coughing usually get their full night's rest even after the first dose. It has been very successful, too, for children's spasmodic coughs, for bronchitis, laryngitis, bronchial asthma and hoarseness. On sale at all good druggists. Ask for

'I Told You So' Have Big Inning After Election

BY RALPH T. JONES.

After a careful check of all post-election opinions delivered Wednesday by political wisecracks of high and low degree, it develops as an irrefutable fact that the holding of the national presidential battle of ballots on Tuesday was an utterly needless waste of time, energy and money. For every one of the oracles consulted Wednesday "knew exactly" how it was going to turn out all the time.

That this statement is amply verified and confirmed will not be questioned. For there are always unlimited numbers of political wisecracks after the election. Of course, on their own statements, there are just as many before the election are cast, but somehow they are not so much in evidence now so easy to find.

HOW TO HAVE A CLEAR HEAD

At Last, Here is What You Have So Long Been Seeking

Do you get up in the morning with a stopped-up nose? Are your breathing passages clogged with a cold? Does your head feel choked up and dull? Have you that mean, low-spirited feeling which comes from lack of proper oxygen? If so, here is a pleasant, harmless cigarette that will clear out the head, nose and throat.

These cigarettes are the formula of Dr. J. W. Blosser, and are composed of medicinal herbs, flowers and berries. Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes contain no tobacco, no cubes, nothing habit forming, and are entirely harmless. They are used by women and children as well as men. These are not to be confused with the "cub" or other similar cigarettes.

It is so simple to inhale this pleasant and soothing smoke. Much more convenient than using sprays, washes, douches, etc.

If you suffer from catarrh, asthma, catarrhal deafness or are subject to frequent colds, get from any drug store a convenient pocket size package of Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes and prove for yourself their pleasant, beneficial effect.

The small size package, containing 20 cigarettes, is sold by all druggists at 35 cents.—(adv.)

never had a child, born or adopted, for her own to raise as she saw fit. So, after the holiday, after the excitement of waiting for the morning paper to carry the returns, after the national battle of ballots has ended for another four years it is comforting to know how large a proportion of our citizens were not disappointed. For, of course, there is no surprise, there can be no disappointment. But isn't it astonishing that so many people stayed up town 'til after midnight Tuesday, in order to "find how the election had gone," that so many eagerly scanned the columns of the paper Wednesday morning to see what the result had been when, by their own statement, they really knew how it was going to turn out long ago?

RECORD VOTE CAST AT POLLS IN BIBB

Macon, Ga., November 5.—(Special.)—The official consolidated vote, obtained tonight from yesterday's election, shows that James R. Hicks, Jr., defeated his opponent, Carlton C. Jones, reported Ku Klux Klan candidate, by 1,502 votes. There were 5,110 ballots cast in the election, the largest ever cast in a general election in Bibb county.

C. C. Anderson, county surveyor, received every vote, and ran first. H. M. Stanley, for commissioner of commerce and labor, was high man among statehouse officers, receiving 5,008. Davis' vote was 3,647; Coolidge, 455; La Follette, 283; Farris, 15, and Nations, 6.

The biggest fight against amendments was on Peach county, there being 2,194 for the creation of Peach county and 1,147 against. There were 596 votes cast against the proposal to merge the city and county governments of Bibb county, but there were 2,270 votes for it.

SPALDING CONCERT GETS MUCH INTEREST

Albert Spalding, violinist, who will be heard here Saturday afternoon as the first attraction of the Series In-time at the auditorium of the Woman's club, is, according to officials of the Atlanta Music club, under whose auspices he appears, a composer of note as well as a virtuoso of international reputation.

It is estimated that his compositions of which more than 40 have been published, include violin and piano compositions and songs, many of which have found place on the program of some of the most noted artists in this country and in Europe. The orchestration of a new overture to "The Tempest," it is said, is his most recent work completed in the late summer at Stratford-on-Avon, at Hall'scroft, to which place Mr. and Mrs. Spalding have repaired for two summers for rest and quiet after his annual tour of the continent. Other new compositions are two pieces for cello, one of which is dedicated to Felix Salmon, distinguished English cellist now in this country, and a violin composition said to be of special brilliance.

Tickets for the Spalding concert will be on sale Friday and Saturday at the Cable Piano company.

Empty Pill Box Points Out Cause Of Baby's Death

Macon, Ga., November 5.—(Special.)—Edna Earl Boyer, two years old, awoke from a nap this afternoon in convulsions.

In one hand she clutched an empty box that had contained sugar coated pills. She was dead in 20 minutes. A doctor reaching her too late said that death was due to poisoning. The mother said she did not know the child had the pills. The body will be taken to Devereux, Ga., tomorrow. The father, G. V. Boyer, is an insurance man.

BIG GROTTO CIRCUS GETS GREAT HAND AT OPENING SHOW

BY LOY O. WARWICK.

There are several good reasons why you should take your best girl, wife or family, as the case may be, to see the Ararat Grotto "charity" circus which opened Tuesday night with a large attendance at Spiller's park.

The first of these is that it is a splendid show—the best of its kind ever offered in Atlanta. Miss Rose, the "little lady on the flying ladder," is another excellent excuse for being in the audience. Miss Rose, in addition to performing hazardous and graceful stunts on the ladder, is just about the prettiest young lady you ever saw under a circus top.

Then Charles Castello does a set of aerial gymnastics that keep you sitting on the edge of your bench throughout. He flies through the air, all the while whirling and swinging dangerously at the end of one of the various contrivances he employs to aid him in giving the public the sought-after thrill.

The Alexander Sisters present a remarkable exhibition in their "human butterfly act." Clinging to one another by their teeth they spin around and around in graceful circles high in the air.

"Marcus the Great," assisted by a company of other clowns, kept Tuesday night's large crowd in a good humor. Marcus is not only a clown, he has the heart of a lion. He is one of the best riding acts of the sawdust ring, and the Waltons do a few turns that are absolutely new, let alone being absolutely fine.

The Ararat Grotto "charity" circus will play at Spiller's park every night through November 15.

LAST SERVICES HELD FOR LUCIUS RAINY

Acworth, Ga., November 5.—(Special.)—Funeral services for Lucius A. Rainey, 64, former member of council, prominent merchant and deacon in the Baptist church here, were held from the residence here today. Mr. Rainey died here Tuesday.

He was superintendent of the Baptist Sunday school here for 14 years, and held high offices in the church. He is survived by his widow; two sons, Dr. Claude C. Rainey and Leo Rainey, of Lithonia; two brothers, Charles Rainey, of Dothan, Ala., and Joseph B. Rainey, of Acworth, and two sisters, Mrs. Ida Kendrick, of Chipley and Mrs. John Awtry, of Clayton.

B'NAI BRITH SPONSORS SERIES OF CONCERTS

A series of six concerts and lectures will be sponsored by the Gate City Lodge, I. O. B. B., and the Jewish Educational alliance to be given one each month from November to April, it was announced Wednesday. The first concert will be given Tuesday evening, November 11, at 8 o'clock at Alliance building, 90 Capitol avenue.

For the initial concert Miss Edna Laska, concert soloist, formerly of the Boston Opera company, has been appointed. H. P. Harner will be accompanist.

The series is given under the auspices of the Gate City lodge, I. O. B. B., and the public is cordially invited. Tickets at 50 cents for single concerts and $1.50 for the series will be on sale every day at the Alliance, or can be secured at the door on concert evenings.

Other numbers of the series will be as follows: December 6, Miriam Brann in dramatic recital; January 13, a lecture by Prof. Charles N. Fiddler; February 10, piano by Jay Gorney; March 5, Joseph Mann in Jewish songs, and on April 21 a lecture by Rabbi Alex Lyons.

Memories of Past Will Be Revived By Baptist Club

Memories of many years will be revived Thursday night at the Second Baptist church when the Men's club of the church meets at 6:30 o'clock to be served the annual turkey supper by the women's organization. Short talks will be made by Eugene R. Black, president of the Atlanta Trust company; F. A. Wilson-Lawson, publisher of The Georgian; W. W. Orr and W. O. Foote.

More than 100 are expected to attend and included in these are many of the notable men of religion and affairs of Atlanta.

Glen T. Dodson is president of the organization and Major Ernest Brown, L. A. Witherspoon and Phil C. McDuffie are vice presidents.

"The history of the Second Baptist church is inseparably intertwined with that of Atlanta, Georgia, and the southern Baptist denomination," said President Dodson, "and we wish to follow faithfully along the trail blazed by the famous men of God and affairs who have gone on before, the glory of whose achievements lights the way and beckons us on, and thoughts of whom play a requiem of their inspiring careers."

"The roster of membership of the Second Baptist church reveals such glowing names as Georgia's war governor, Joseph M. Brown, whose memory lives with fragrance among us, refreshed by the present membership in our midst of his famous son, ex-Governor Joseph M. Brown, his daughter, Mrs. E. L. Connally, and another son, Elijah Brown.

"We find among other great statesmen of the past the names of ex-Governors Joseph M. Terrell and W. J. Northern, and the office of chief executive is represented today by Governor Clifford Walker.

"United States Senator Walter George was a member of our Men's club, as is that revered soldier-statesman, Judge George Hillier, capitalist and former mayor of Atlanta.

Prominent Pastors.
"The list of pastors of the Second Baptist church includes the most distinguished leaders of the Baptist denomination, past and present. Among them Dr. A. T. Spaulding, Dr. Henry McDonald, Dr. John E. White, Dr. Henry Alford Porter, and the present pastor, Dr. Carter Helm Jones, whose father, Dr. J. William Jones, was chaplain to the immortal Robert E. Lee.

"Dr. Ashby Jones is a brother of Dr. Carter Helm Jones.

"Such distinguished men of Atlanta as Dr. E. L. Connally, Judge W. D. Ellis, Col. Walter R. Brown, Frederick J. Paxon, A. D. Adair, Dr. W. E. Campbell, Dr. M. L. Brittain, Dr. W. B. Duvall, J. J. Williamson, W. A. Stripling, James T. Wright, E. J. Spiller, Dr. M. D. Huff, Henry C. Beerman, A. C. Briscoe, W. B. Williamson, Jr., Fred Patterson, Henry R. Durand, F. S. Etheridge, Hugh R. Fischer, and John S. Spaulding are among the leaders of our Men's club, together with many others prominent in identified with civic and religious life of Atlanta.

"The purpose of the club is to afford a social organization for our men and to promote with their influence and effort the interests of the church, the city, and the denomination."

GEORGIA FIDDLERS PLAN FOR CONVENTION

All the best in fiddling, all the best in fun and all the best spontaneous humor of the old south are blended in the program to be offered Friday and Saturday at the Auditorium at the Old Time Georgia Fiddlers' convention, it was announced Wednesday after the list of entries was compiled by the management. Some of the ablest entertainers in all Georgia and the south will assemble here.

One of the new performers this year will be Herman Davenport, champion "patter," said to be the only man in the world who can "put" a real time by slapping the palms of his hands on his knees. He will be brought here from his home in Fannin county by "Fiddlin' John" Carson, who is one of the star performers on the program.

Davenport "puts" out real tunes accompanied by a fiddle. He also sings and gives a new version of "Shortening Bread" which is said to be a scream of laughter.

Among other fun provokers who will take part in the entertainment are "Laughing Gid" Tanner, the double-voiced singer; "High Pockets" Johnson, virtuoso of the Jew's-harp; "Stringbeans" Snellgrove, who essays to win the title of the "world's worst fiddler"; "Legs" Lewis, champion "base down" dancer of the Blue Ridge; "Little Willie" Weaver, the boy phenomenon, who plays a fiddle of his own make, two dozen country barn dancers, a double quartette and two score other entertainers.

After each performance an old-fashioned barn dance will be given with music furnished by the "Lickskiller" orchestra, of Rabun county.

MORE CLEAR WEATHER

Slightly Warmer Temperature Forecast.

More clear weather, accompanied by a rising thermometer, is promised for Atlanta Thursday by C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local weather bureau office.

Supporting Mr. von Herrmann's prophecy, the temperature began to climb Wednesday night, and it is evidently determined to average a few degrees higher today.

Readings for Wednesday showed a high of 75 degrees during the afternoon, following a minimum for the day of 58 degrees in the early morning hours. This was slightly warmer than on Tuesday.

The forecast for the entire state for Thursday, while not including rain, does anticipate "partly cloudy weather in some portions. Temperatures in the northwest have fallen considerably during the last 24 hours. Have and Williston both reporting as low as 18 degrees. Heaviest rain fall of the day occurred at San Francisco, where .24 of an inch fell.

—to have a good APPETITE!

"Yes! thank you."

A GOOD appetite means a cheerful disposition.

You may have a good appetite if the blood that goes constantly to your vital organs is pure. S.S.S. purifies the blood—a good appetite follows and you will have a clear complexion and will be strong, cheerful and healthy.

Don't go on feeling one day and down the next—hardly sick but never well—losing "pep," punch and ambition. Hearty eaters are the red-blooded men and women. Enjoy your food! Get back your strength and energy! Reclaim yourself before it is too late! People in a physically run-down condition are an easy prey to disease.

S.S.S. is what is needed. Your blood needs purifying. Your blood cells supply the energy which keeps your body well and fit. S.S.S. aids Nature in supplying new red-blood-cells—the spark that renews your system. Carefully selected, scientifically proportioned, and prepared herbs and barks make up S.S.S.—the great blood purifier which gives Nature a helping hand. Get back the lost appetite, the missing vitality, the keen, sparkling eyes, that look of determination. S.S.S. will give you more energy, vitality and vigor and a more up and going appearance.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Life of Express Company Head Reads Like Fiction

JOSEPH EVERETT SKAGGS

Joseph Everett Skaggs, newly elected president of the Southeastern Express company, the story of whose meteoric rise from office boy to chief executive, reads like the life of a hero in a novel.

From office boy to president—that repeated theme in fiction, but seldom true in life—is the case of the new president of the Southeastern Express company, Joseph Everett Skaggs, who Wednesday was promoted from general manager of the express company to chief executive to succeed the late J. B. Hockaday, who died recently in Asheville. Mr. Skaggs will continue to make his headquarters in Atlanta.

Sanders McDaniel was elected president and general counsel and also will continue to be located in Atlanta. Mr. Skaggs' promotions came from an even humbler beginning than an office boy. The new president first cast his lot with the express company as a wagon driver and rose through the various executive offices of the organization until he reached his presidency.

He was born September 29, 1877, at Bowling Green, Ky., and was educated in the public schools, Oglethorpe college and Southern Normal School and Business college, at Bowling Green. He first began his career with the Southern Express company in 1893 as helper to passengers on the Georgia, Southern & Florida railroad, between Lake City, Fla., and Macon, Ga. In the same year he went to the Valdosta as wagon driver and general clerk, remaining there until 1894, when he was made office boy and stenographer at the Jacksonville office.

His First Promotion. On June 1, 1894, he was promoted to money delivery clerk, and in 1895 was made receiving and check clerk. Two promotions within the next two years made Mr. Skaggs money clerk.

ATLANTANS FEATURE LOCAL LYCEUM COURSE

A humorous lecture by Rev. Marvin Williams, pastor of Wesley Memorial Methodist church, will feature the first entertainment of a Lyceum course to start at 8 o'clock Friday night at the Inman Park Methodist church. The course is presented under auspices of the Woman's Missionary society.

The Union League orchestra will be an added attraction on Friday night's program. $1 will be charged for season tickets, for the four entertainments, while single admissions will be 35 cents.

The program November 14 will present Mary Joe Merritt, of the Carolyn Cobb studios, who will give several readings; a play, "Molly's Way," with music by the Rufus Groover orchestra, will conclude the number to be staged November 21, and the Emory orchestra and quartet will furnish the closing program for the course on November 28.

SOLDIER SUCCUMBS TO TROLLEY INJURIES

Jesse E. Davis, private, of Company B, Twenty-second infantry, Fort McPherson, died Wednesday morning at the Fort hospital as the result of injuries received Sunday, when he was struck down by a trolley car near the reservation.

Private Davis, who was 27 years old, was a veteran of the world war and saw service in the battles of the Aisne-Marne, St. Mihiel and the Meuse-Argonne. He was wounded in the fighting on the Argonne front. For the past two years he had been stationed at Fort McPherson.

The soldier was a native Georgian, born at Flowery Branch, and for many years resided in Gainesville. He is survived by a brother, Samuel Davis, of Norcross, where the body will be taken for interment. Details of the funeral arrangements will be announced later.

DE PACHMANN RECITAL TICKETS GO ON SALE

No recital announced for Atlanta in years has created more interest among pianists and piano students than that of Vladimir de Pachmann, who is to play at the auditorium on Friday evening of next week. Atlanta music-lovers assert. De Pachmann, making his farewell tour at the age of 70, is one of the most widely discussed personages of the concert world and there is much curiosity as to what he will do or say at each appearance.

De Pachmann, it is said, is a law unto himself. He is unhampered by tradition, fearless of criticism and frequently caustic in his remarks. He is likely to deliver a lecture before each number, or to interrupt his playing to point out how a passage should be played. He startled New York upon his arrival from Europe by calmly declaring himself "the greatest pianist of all time," and then, as one leading critic remarked, proceeded to prove it. He is the father of the "De Pachmann method" of playing.

Seats for the recital will be on sale Thursday and Friday of next week at the Phillips & Crew store. For the three days previous, beginning Monday, season tickets will be offered for the artists' series, which opens with the De Pachmann recital and includes the San Carlo Opera company, in "Madame Butterfly," Paul Whiteman and his orchestra, Denishawn dancers and Mischa Elman.

FOUR ARE HELD FOLLOWING RAID ON HARRIS STREET

Sid Allen and Jack Palmer, of 53 East Harris street, were held by federal officers on charges of violating the prohibition and narcotic laws following a raid at the Harris street address late Tuesday night, according to reports made to prohibition and narcotic headquarters Wednesday.

Gastlow Dean and Eddie Keenan, said to have been in the apartment with Allen and Palmer at the time of the raid, were held by city officers on charges of being occupants of a dive, according to police reports.

Narcotic Inspector Whittington and City Detectives McGee, Cason and Brooks reported that they entered the apartment and found the four men seated around a table. There was no apparent law violation, the officers said, but a search was conducted, nevertheless.

Removal of a loose plank in the floor revealed 16 pints of liquor, of which the officers reported a quantity of morphine. Occupants of the apartment were placed under arrest and the contraband products were confiscated.

BORN WITH TEETH Hapeville Baby Has Three Normal Teeth.

If little Dolly May Lock could express herself at the age of five weeks she probably would say "Isn't it great to be an unusual child?"

Dolly May was born with three pearly teeth. While her father, H. D. Lock, of Hapeville, Ga., waited anxiously for the verdict of "a boy" or "a girl" on the morning of Dolly May's arrival, the doctor rushed out of the room in Grady hospital with the exclamation of "it has teeth," and then proceeded to tell that he was the father of a fine baby girl.

Mother is doing nicely and little Dolly May is "teething" at this early age.

ATLANTA DENTISTS ATTEND CONVENTION

A number of members of the faculty of Atlanta Southern Dental college and well known Atlanta dentists will leave Friday to attend the annual session of the American Dental association, which convenes at Dallas, Texas, November 10-14.

Among those making the trip are Dr. Sheppard W. Foster, Dr. Thomas P. Himmman, Dr. Ralph G. Byrnes, Dr. Samuel S. Silverman, Dr. DeLos Hill and Dr. G. A. Mitchell.

POSTAL RECEIPTS NEAR HIGH RECORD IN OFFICE HISTORY

Postmaster E. K. Large stated Wednesday that receipts for the Atlanta postoffice during October were $308,569.93, which came near establishing a new high record for the entire history of the office. December of last year stands as the only month that has eclipsed the figure established during October.

The increase for the past month over that of the same month last year was $12,158.16. The total receipts for the past ten months of 1924 are $2,802,886.35. Postmaster Large announced.

He stated that if the present average of receipts continues, along with the heavy business expected during the Christmas holiday season, the Atlanta office will close the present year with the highest receipts of its history.

RAILROADING EPOCH IS NEAR FOR SANTA FE

Recent announcement by W. J. Black, passenger traffic manager of the Santa Fe system, regarding completion this fall of main line double-track between Chicago and Los Angeles—a distance of more than 2,300 miles and crossing four mountain ranges—has aroused unusual interest among transcontinental travelers and shippers. It marks a new epoch in American railroading.

Double-tracks make possible more frequent service and shorter time.

This great work was begun about twenty years ago and it has cost many millions of dollars. It will enable the Santa Fe to keep pace with the rapid development of the southwest and California, officials say.

COMPRESS COMPANY PETITION GRANTED

The Southeastern Compress and Warehouse company, a new Atlanta concern, Wednesday was granted permission by the state public service commission to issue $350,000 in common capital stock and to float two notes, maturing in one and two years respectively, for $270,166.00 each. Proceeds are to be used, it is stated, to purchase the physical properties and good will of the Atlantic Compress company, also of Atlanta.

The commission also granted permission to the Georgia Railway and Electric company to issue $378,000 in first mortgage bonds. This is one of the regular periodic bond issues.

NEGRO MESSENGER HELD FOR THEFT

Paul Hamilton, negro, employed at the Atlanta postoffice as a special delivery messenger, was arrested Wednesday by Postoffice Inspector F. H. Shumate on charges of stealing letters from the mails and forging postoffice money orders.

The negro signed a statement in which he confessed to the theft and forgery of three money orders, it is said, one for $35, one for $10, and the third for $20. These were contained in letters that had been consigned to Hamilton for special delivery.

He was held under bond of $1,500 following a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Joe Abbott.

SPANISH OFFICERS INSPECT TECH R. O. T. C.

Lieutenant Colonel Fernan Espalargas, of the general staff of the Spanish army, and Major Victoriano Casaguis, military attaché at Washington of the Spanish government, in this week making an inspection of the R. O. T. C. system at Georgia Tech.

The Georgia Tech R. O. T. C. for years has ranked among the highest military units in the country and since coming under the command of Colonel Earle D.A. Pearce has developed many outstanding features not found with other college military units, it is said.

Don't mix your meals

Nothing will upset your system so thoroughly as frequent changes in the quality of the food you eat—any traveling man will tell you that. It may seem a long way from meals to motors—but read on.

Some fellows buy trouble by the gallon

For many motor troubles originate in the gas tank.

GOOD gasoline as a steady diet will result in a smooth-running engine, but the minute you fill your tank with inferior gasoline you're in for trouble.

You can readily understand that a carburetor adjusted to work perfectly with a high-grade gasoline will not operate as well when a poor quality is introduced.

The important thing to do is to find the best gas for your engine and then don't change!

Which is the best gas?

That's a question you will have to answer for yourself.

Naturally each producer feels that his gasoline is just a little bit better than the next fellow's.

You will have to make the final decision as far as your own case goes—all we can do is to point out just why Pan-Am Gasoline is so good. Here are six reasons:

1. Pan-Am Gasoline makes an easy, quick start.
2. Because of the low boiling point it is completely consumed in each explosion—reducing use of choke—thus minimizing the dilution of the oil in your crank-case by liquid gas.
3. It is not blended with by-products in order to raise its boiling point temporarily.
4. It will give you even and uniform explosions.
5. It yields greater mileage.
6. And, last but not least, it never varies in quality.

That, in brief, is the Pan-Am story as far as gasoline is concerned.

Whether you finally decide to become our regular patron or not, we shall be glad to see and glad to serve you.

The men at Pan-Am Service Stations are trained to give intelligent attention to your needs, promptly and courteously.

Luckie, Boland Star in Ga. Scrimmage

Bulldogs Stop Freshmen Running Virginia's Plays; Forbes To Be Out of Game

BY MARCUS BYRANT.
Athens, Ga., November 5.—(Special.)—Friday afternoon, the Georgia Bulldogs bled the rattle for Charlottesville, Va., and the scene of their annual game with the Cavaliers of Virginia on Saturday.
Coaches Thomas and Mehr, in charge of the Red and Black, in the absence of Coach Woodruff, due to the death of a brother, Harry, held a short scrimmage Wednesday, and brought to a close the strenuous preparation for the game. Coach Woodruff will not make the trip with the squad.
Dumplings scrimmaging and a lengthy signal drill will be afforded this afternoon and Friday, the Bulldogs will hold a short workout before enroute for Charlottesville. The squad leaves Athens Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, over the Southern.
Virginia Plays Effective.
The Freshmen made things go their way for the first part of Wednesday's scrimmage, using old Dominion plays with quite a bit of effectiveness. As the play progressed, however, the varsity came into its own and checked the yearling attack. The scrimmage lasted for about 20 minutes.
Curtis Luckie did some nice work Wednesday against the Freshmen. His ability as a forward has been proven, and in the scrimmage he smeared everything coming his way. Kells Boland, young Atlanta, distinguished himself by his work Wednesday.

$98,866 GIVEN CHEST FIRST DAY

As the result of concentrated efforts on the part of the agencies of the Atlanta Community Chest, $98,866 was reported to have been subscribed Wednesday by active workers of the chest at the first daily report luncheon held at the Kimball house at noon.
The campaign was launched at a meeting Tuesday night and interest manifested by civic leaders was declared to be unparalleled in the history of the city. With a goal of $800,000 to be raised and distributed to 40 charitable organizations, the 700 campaign workers are diligently scouring every section of the city in order that every citizen may have the opportunity of contributing to this cause.
The drive will be concluded November 12.

The largest divisional report at the meeting Wednesday was reported from the special gifts division, this division having canvassed a number of big industries and has been successful. Eighty-one thousand dollars has been subscribed in this division.

Postal Clerks Vote To Request Congress To Support Measure

A representative gathering of Atlanta postal clerks, railroad mail clerks, city carriers and supervisors voted unanimously Wednesday night to use their efforts to have congress override the president's veto on the Kelly-Edge bill, authorizing an increase in salary for postal employees.
The action followed an address by Leo F. George, of Washington, D. C., president of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks. Mr. George, who was brought to Atlanta under the auspices of the local order, No. 32, of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, spoke in the interest of the Kelly-Edge bill and urged local employees to use their efforts to have it passed over veto.
The bill provides for an increase in salary to postal employees of $300 per annum. It was passed by both houses of congress and vetoed by the president and is now unfinished business of the senate.

DODD NEW OWNER OF M'CLURE STORE ON PETERS STREET

H. M. Dodd, Atlanta business man, will take over the McClure Five & Ten Cent store, at 248 Peters street, it was announced Tuesday.
The new firm will operate under the name of Dodd's Five & Ten Cent store.
Branch No. 9 of the postoffice will be operated in the store for convenience of patrons, it has been announced.

ALLEGED THIEF HELD FOR INVESTIGATION

Tom Tummer, negro, of 182 1/2 West Mitchell street, was arrested Wednesday night by Detectives M. P. Warren and J. J. Chester, who found in his possession a large quantity of clothing alleged to have been stolen from a business house at 200 Peters street.

VOTES OF AMERICUS RATIFY PAVING BONDS

Americus, Ga., November 5.—(Special.)—Voters of Americus today ratified a proposal to issue $60,000 in street improvement bonds. The money will be used in repaving sections of Americus where wood-block pavement was laid about ten years ago.

Whole-hearted sympathy with observance of national apple week

is seen in the act of officials of the Atlanta and Lowry National bank in placing one dozen crates of luscious, health-giving Georgia apples on display in the lobby of the bank building at Pryor street and Edgewood avenue.

Rickard Matches Gibbons And Norfolk for Garden

BY ROBERT LUSK.
New York, November 5.—When Tex Rickard recently announced that he had discovered a brand-new number to try out on the cash registers of Madison Square Garden, the hope of bringing forth a swell of music to break up a dull season, it was given out that the piece was to be a catchy little number entitled "Mixed Weights."
But Rickard announced Wednesday that the air had been revamped and that it was not only to be a mixing of weights but a mixing of colors, a thing never before tried in the Garden. To make the mixture even more complicated he has picked Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul heavyweight, who has never before met anything in the colored line, and Kid Norfolk, negro heavyweight, to put it over. The night selected for the premier is December 8. On that night Gibbons will fight Norfolk 15 rounds to a decision, and if that doesn't jazz up the fight business around the metropolitan Rickard has other tricks up his sleeve.
The excuse for the bout is Mrs. William Randolph Hearst's Christmas fund. A part of the proceeds will go to that worthy charity and a bit of the rest will go to the fighters and then a small charge connected with Rickard's furnishing the hall, the light, heat and so forth.
It is hoped that a bout of this kind will bring forth a groan from the turn-of-style and the fans may even come to life long enough to contribute to a fund for the revival of the cauliflower trade.
Kid Norfolk has not met any real material since the day in Shelby, Mont., when he held off Jack Dempsey for 15 rounds.
Norfolk has been known for some time as one of the leading negro fighters in the game. To say that he is in Gibbons' class would be a slight libel. He has always fought in rough and ready fashion and has never taken up the game as a science, but that rather heightens the attraction for the mixing of science and rough-house is always good fore in New York.

Bulldogs Wonderful Team, Declares Virginia Coach

University, Va., November 5.—(Special.)—Georgia will send an unusually strong team up to face Virginia on Lambeau field next Saturday afternoon, according to Coach John Kellison, who saw the Bulldogs overwhelm the University of Tennessee in Athens last week.
Undeclared in the south this season the Georgians are tied with Alabama in the lead for the championship of the Southern conference.
But forgetting the loss sustained last Saturday at the hands of Washington and Lee, the Virginians are drilling hard under Coach Earle Neale with the hope that they may be able to turn back the invaders on Saturday.
Coach Kellison has brought back a report that down in Athens a wonderful team has been developed, one that has power in charging, speed in running plays and accuracy when a pass is called.
Inspired by pride in the team representing their state university, Georgians are planning a wholesale invasion of Virginia this week-end and it is expected that a special train will be run from Atlanta to Charlottesville.
D. E. Brown, graduate manager, would not be surprised to see a larger crowd here at the end of the week than attended the Virginia-W. and L. game last Saturday.
Coach Neale has not driven his regular hard in practice this week. In fact none of the first team players were on the field yesterday, for they were given a complete rest from Saturday until this afternoon. It is doubtful if the varsity will be scrimmaged this week, for Coach Neale wants to save his men in order that they may not be stale and stiff from overwork when they go on the field against the Georgians.

Only Three Days Remain In Elephant Puzzle Game

Only three more days—
Have you filed your solution to the famous elephant puzzle game? Contest with the management and fully qualified your answer?
That question is as popular just now as: "Well, how'd the election suit you?"
If you haven't submitted your solution and qualified it for the biggest of the thirty big cash prizes offered in the contest, do it today. Something might happen at the very last minute to keep you from getting your answer in on time—so play safe and do it without loss of time.
Remember that the thirty big cash prizes offered in this event total $2,500. Be sure to get in line for the largest of them all.
The sum of $9.50 qualifies for the largest prize of $1,000. Two six-months' subscriptions at $5 each, total $10, are equal to a year's subscription. One six-months' subscription and two three-months' subscriptions at $2.50, are equal to a twelve-months' subscription. Four three-months' subscriptions at $2.50 each, total remittance $10, is equal to a twelve-months' subscription to qualify for the larger prizes.
It is not necessary that the contestant send his or her own subscription. Another subscription can be sent and the solution recorded in the name of the contestant.

FIFTH WARD LEAGUE TO MEET THURSDAY

Commissioner George E. Watts and Scout Executive A. A. Jameson of the Boy Scout movement will be principal speakers at the meeting of the Fifth Ward Civic league to be held Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock in the English avenue school auditorium.

Apple Week Observed

Apple Week has been set aside by the president, and designated by the governor of every state and mayor of every city. Concentrated efforts are being made throughout the nation to widen the distribution and use of apples and to bring this product of the orchard to every man, woman and child in the apple-eating world.
Crop Is Plentiful.
The crop is plentiful this fall and wholesale distributors here and in other large cities of the south report that prices are so reasonable that apples are within the reach of every family. The Georgia crop is larger than in several years, and the fine-flavored varieties are finding ready sale.
"After all, what is better than an apple," said C. R. Porter, vice president of the Porter Brothers' Farm corporation, of Esom Hill, Ga., who owns and operates 7,500 acres of land and 25,546 apple trees. "There is no pie as good as apple pie; there is apple sauce, apple dumplings, apple butter, baked apple, and last, but not least, sweet apple cider. An apple before you go to bed will make the medicine beg his bread. There are 107 different ways to use apples, and almost an apple for every way. No other fruit is more universally liked or more beneficial."
Started in 1905.
To James Hardly, of Quincy, Ill., secretary of the Mississippi Valley Growers' association, according to Mr. Porter, belongs credit for founding national apple day, which has now been extended to one week. The appeal of Hardly for the celebration of such a day was made before a number of horticultural organizations, as well as the International Apple Shippers' association, in the year 1905. The latter organization was among the first to vote to support Mr. Hardly's plan, and subsequently over a hundred societies and organizations interested in the apple joined their approval.
While the first suggestion of national apple day came as early as 1905, it was not until 1913 that the first national celebration was held under the direction of the International Apple Shippers' association. From this time on special observance of national apple day has been featured annually, throughout the country, together with national apple week since 1920.

NOTRE DAME WILL PLAY ON COAST

Los Angeles, November 5.—Notre Dame university will meet the University of Southern California in an intercollegiate football game at Pasadena next New Year's day, it was announced here tonight by Gwynn Wilson, graduate manager of the Southern California institution.

MONTGOMERY, ROMERO DRAW

New York, November 5.—Quintin Romero, of Chile, and Sully Montgomery, Centre college football star, fought to a draw in the six-round final to a series of heavyweight fights in Madison Square Garden tonight.
Montgomery in his first important professional fight, outboxed the Chilean in the first three rounds and almost dropped his opponent in the fourth with a right to the jaw. Romero took the last round.
Montgomery weighed 204 and Romero 190 1/2.
Miguel Ferrara, of the Argentine, knocked out George E. Erntroch, of White Plains, in the fourth round.

PURPLE PLAYS NEWNAN FRI.

With one victory already chalked up for the week, Buck Cheever's Boys' High Purple Hurricane will invade Newnan Friday afternoon in an attempt to win two games this week.
Boys' High Tuesday afternoon defeated G. M. A. by a 5-to-0 score and came out of the game with practically no injuries. Coach Cheever is taking no chances with any hard scrimmages and only light work will constitute the remainder of the practice this week.
There will be a long signal drill this afternoon and the team will leave Friday morning.

BENNIE REGAN STOPS MILLER

Chattanooga, Tenn., November 5.—(Special.)—Bennie Regan, of Atlanta, sent his opponent, Mugsey Miller, to the canvas for the full count here last night in the last round of an eight-round boxing bout.
Regan had the fight his way throughout. Miller was sent to the floor seven times before he took the knockout blow.

PEPTOSSERS MEET TONIGHT

There will be a meeting of the Pep Class basketball candidates and supporters tonight at 7 o'clock in the class room at the Baptist Tabernacle for the purpose of organizing a basketball team for the coming season.

Display of Apples Wins Many Friends For King of Fruit

Rosy cheeked, shiny apples everywhere and, unlike the water that ancient fiction tells of, they are all for human consumption. Apples in all the stores, in all homes, and apples of all sorts. They are used in window decorations. They are on display in overflowing baskets at all fruit and grocery stores.
For this is national apple week and Atlanta, with the slogan "Tell 'em About Apples," is taking its part in the nation's tribute to the king of fruit. Everyone is urged to join in the campaign to use more apples by using the fruit themselves.
Apple week has been set aside by the president, and designated by the governor of every state and mayor of every city. ## Batters on Auditorium Program Finish Training; Knockouts Are Expected

Thirty-six rounds of some of the fastest and deadliest fistic entertainment shown here in the last five months is promised for tonight, when the American Legion stages its show at the Auditorium, featuring a 12-round mill between Jack Reddick, a knockout artist, of Atlanta, and Soldier Buck, of Louisville, Ky., who holds a decision over Harry Fay. All of the participants in tonight's events kept floor space of the Southern Athletic club gym in the Kimball House warm yesterday afternoon in their final preparation for the legions show. Matchmaker Holt Gwiner said last night that every one of the boxers is in the best of shape. The first bout will start at 8:30 o'clock.
After seeing Soldier Buck work Tuesday in the Southern Athletic club gym and after viewing the deadly accuracy of his left jab, also an accomplishment of Reddick, fight fans yesterday descended en masse on Jake's place in the Kimball House lobby, where tickets are on sale.
Knockouts Likely.
Several knockouts are likely tonight. They were predicted in the last legions show held a month or so back, but failed to materialize. There was plenty of action though in that other card to make up for lack of knockouts. Tonight, the fighters engaged in the entertainment will be in better condition than those on the other card, which means that more punch probably will be administered.
The semi-windup, the event featuring Joe Burman and Gunboat Farley, is almost sure to result in somebody tasting resin before the final round is reached. While both are fairly good on defense, both have shown a wallop that is remarkable. Bill McGowan, who has been working with nearly all of the heavy boys on tonight's card, said Tuesday that he had never taken a harder punch than that given him by Burman the day before when they were sparring. Farley is known for his number of knockouts.
Buck finished his training yesterday with somewhat lighter work than was taken by Reddick, holder of the Canadian boxing championship. While Buck was shadow-boxing and punching the bag for his last turn before the battle tonight, Reddick went four rounds against Young Stribling, who is preparing Reddick for all of his scraps now.
Strib Opens on Jack.
Reddick and Stribling milled hard through all four rounds, with Stribling slashing and cutting at Reddick without any show of restraint. It was the final part of Reddick's training program which called for as much defensive work as leading practice.
Jordan Shepard, who boxes Benny Ray in the second round of the evening, has shown here frequently of late, and has exhibited marked improvement in speed and punch in each scrap. His last two fights were against Pete Cole, of Rome. In Ray he will have a much tougher opponent than Cole and will have to do some pretty work to stay on his feet.

ALABAMA FOX HUNT STARTS

Mobile, Ala., November 5.—A pack of 148 hounds was cast here today in the first hunt of the Alabama Fox Hunters' association at Jackson's creek, 16 miles south of Mobile and before the chase ended five foxes had been caught. The opening day's hunt was most successful, both from number of dogs entered and the number of persons participating, approximately 100 persons following the dogs throughout the chase. Hunts will be held each morning at 5 o'clock and on Friday the dogs remaining will be cast in the finals to determine the winning dog.
A meeting was held at the camp site last night resulting in the consolidation of the north and south Alabama fox hunters' associations into the Alabama Fox Hunters' association and the following officers were named: L. C. Adams, Mobile, president; J. H. Wilder, Talladega, vice president; Dr. M. L. Moore, Mount Vernon, secretary; the board of directors is composed of the following: Dr. A. D. Cowles, Ramey, Ala.; M. Jones, Troy; Z. C. Talley, Birmingham; J. H. Lane, Sylva, Ala.; Doc Bates, Birmingham and Dyke Echols, Decatur.
With the acquisition of Morrow, Coach Bean now has a colorful collection of college stars trying for places on the A. A. C. team. Among those stars are: Joe Eckford, Baby Ronee and Emory Jenks, former Tech men; Joe Bennett, former Georgia star; Ritz, formerly of the B. A. C., and Bill Morrow, a forward on the Oglethorpe team several seasons ago when the Petrels had a basketball team.
Hard scrimmages have been on the card for three evenings each week down on Auburn avenue and Coach Bean is mulling over looks to be one of the best basketball organizations that ever represented the local club.
The first game of the season will be played December 19 with the Kansas City Blues, national amateur champions for two years. The game will be played in Kansas City.
Despite heavy price cutting business at the industrial fair at Leipzig was very dull this year.

GUS MORROW SEEKS A. A. C. BERTH

Gus Morrow, one of the greatest basketball stars that ever played for Vanderbilt, has been added to the list of candidates working out under the direction of Coach Joe Bean for the Atlanta Athletic club.
Morrow is best coach of all athletes at G. M. A. and a member of the faculty. It was pointed out Tuesday that Morrow is giving his coaching services free of charge and therefore is eligible to play basketball as an amateur. He was quickly recruited for services as a candidate for the A. A. C. team.
Morrow was a star guard for four years at Vandy and is in perfect condition now. He was in action Wednesday night on the Athletic club floor.
With the acquisition of Morrow, Coach Bean now has a colorful collection of college stars trying for places on the A. A. C. team. Among those stars are: Joe Eckford, Baby Ronee and Emory Jenks, former Tech men; Joe Bennett, former Georgia star; Ritz, formerly of the B. A. # TECH MUST STOP L. S. U. PASSES, SAYS STATION

Big List of Injured Men May Cost Saturday's Game; Varsity Halts Frish March

BY JOHN STATION.
Four Years End, Georgia Tech.
For the second consecutive afternoon, the Tech varsity squad worked against the L. S. U. formations yesterday. Quite a bit of scrimmaging was carried on supplementary of the field instructions issued by Coach Alexander from his position behind the varsity line.

The L. S. U. formations, in the main, are an evolution of the famous "line divide" which Mike Donahue perfected during his long stay at Auburn.

In the first part of the scrimmage, the freshmen (L. S. U. by proxy) had a pretty easy time in gaining on the varsity. In a march, more or less continuous, but not marked by a strict observance of down, the freshmen advanced the ball to the varsity's five-yard line. Here, however, Coach Alex's charges tightened and repelled the attacks of the yearlings.

It may be that Tech cannot successfully withstand the L. S. U. attack on Saturday. Two or three reasons may be assigned for that alarming state.

Many on Hurt Roster.
Chief among them perhaps is Tech's large and ever growing injured roster. Numbered on it are quite a few of the varsity players who would materially aid Tech in her play on Saturday.

Fred Moore, Mack Harris, Vaughn Connelly, Frank Harris, and Gus Merkle are but a few. The size of the injured list is no surprise. With such a schedule as Tech has played through, the list of injured, of necessity, becomes increasingly great as the season's close draws nearer.

As a reflex of that condition, perhaps, comes the disturbing thought that Tech's defense against forward passes will be weakened. With several regulars out, it is natural that the offense and defense as a whole should suffer correspondingly.

Saturday's backfield may consist of Wilton, Murray, Williams and Wilton, Murray, Williams, due to their inexperience, are easy prey for crafty passes.

And more alarming this condition becomes when the fact is known that L. S. U. has been devoting much time to passes in preparation for the Tech game. Out of the many which were tried against the varsity yesterday, there were three or four which would give the most experienced backfield men trouble. Tech, with two green men in the backfield will be especially susceptible.

May Be Let-Up.
One must also count in the natural reaction after the hard struggle against Notre Dame. The fierce play of the boys last Saturday is likely to have its effect against L. S. U. There probably will be a certain let-up.

The Vandy game follows L. S. U. with only a week's interval. Now, the opinion may be purely personal, but it is believed the Tech team will be directed more against Vandy than L. S. U. In other words, if one of the two games had to be lost, in order that the other could be won, a good many people, at all hazards, would prefer to see Tech lose to L. S. U.

Of course, Tech is going to beat the Louisiana boys if possible. Tech never has, and never will, go into a game with the idea of holding its opponent to as low a score as possible. Tech tries to win every game, and plays, regardless of the opposition. With these facts standing, out boldly, it is probable that the L. S. U. game will be exceedingly close, and no surprise if L. S. U. wins. It all depends on about two things: Tech's ability to stop L. S. U.'s passing attack, and the offensive drive which the Jackets can hurl against Mike Donahue's team.

12,000 WILL SEE ALA.-KY. GAME

BY BOB MATHERNE.
University, Ala., November 5.—(Special.)—The Crimson Tide of Alabama is on the home stretch with contests against Kentucky, Centre and Georgia blocking the path to a Southern championship.

The Crimson entertain the Kentucky Wildcats at Denny field this coming Saturday in the feature attraction of homecoming day. The game will be played to an estimated crowd of 12,000, which is expected to include Governor William W. Brandon and other state officials. Reservations for large parties have already been made for delegations from practically every town in Alabama.

If Alabama survives the Kentucky game, as she is hoped to do, the Blue Grass state will send another eleven down to fight the Tide in the Center Coliseum. And should Alabama keep her state clean through the Georgia Bulldogs still remain to be met in Birmingham on Thanksgiving day.

Little is known of Kentucky except through the comparative scores of games played with Sewanee. Alabama beat Sewanee 14-0, and Kentucky beat Sewanee 7-0. Tracing a fleet back into last year's game, Alabama's record is a touchdown, and Sanders, captain and fullback, are rated among the best backs in Dixie. The comparative scores give Alabama only a slight edge.

Coach Hank Crisp, who Saturday scouted the Centre-Kentucky game, said there was very little to choose between the two teams. Both are good and apt to beat Alabama, if any slips are made.

As it stands now, Alabama fears Kentucky and Centre. Both might beat the Wadens, but no one seriously expects them to. Georgia is the team to beat—and Georgia is the team that will be prepped hardest for. The Bulldogs are the feared team in the Southeast, a fear that appears now to be greater than the fear of Florida was last year.

Alabama is unscathed upon this year, having scored a total of 220 points to none registered by the opponents. This is for six games, an average of more than 36 points per game.

THE UMPIRE

THOSE who coach football and those who play the game can help themselves by keeping in mind some simple advice. There is nothing new nor startling in what follows in full-face type, simply a few details that are too frequently overlooked or forgotten:

Three inches means little in a stretch of 100 yards, but many football games have been lost by exactly that distance. Many a fourth down has passed with the ball still three inches shy of the required distance.

No look, motion or position should ever give an inquiring opponent the play is to be. Teams with perfect deception are hard to stop.

If it is Bill Roper's contention that any team that can hide the ball will win. Any team that develops deception will hide the ball.

Try to worry your opponents by rapidly changing position after the signal is given. That, too, is deception.

If the pass from center on a punt signal is to be a punt, the punter is to take a loss than try to go through with the play and have the punt blocked, providing it is first, second or third down.

These few little matters, kept in mind will be valuable in a pinch.

TIGERSPOINT TO TULANE CLASH

Auburn, Ala., November 5.—(Special.)—Saturday's game at Cramton Bowl, in Montgomery, will mark a battle between two ancient rivals whose relationship dates back 22 years. The first Auburn-Tulane game was played in 1902, according to available records and resulted in a 0-0 deadlock.

The game Saturday will mark the seventh time the two teams have met for grid honors. Two clashes have resulted in tie games and the other four have been Auburn victories. Information from the Shaugnessy camp indicates that the Greens are coming to Montgomery dead bent on capturing their first victory over the Orange and Blue Tiger of Auburn.

The records of the activities of the two teams are as follows: 1902—Auburn, 0; Tulane, 0. 1905—Auburn, 27; Tulane, 7. 1906—Auburn, 33; Tulane, 0. 1921—Auburn, 14; Tulane, 0. 1922—Auburn, 19; Tulane, 0. 1923—Auburn, 6; Tulane, 6. Total—Auburn, 99; Tulane, 13.

The results of the two teams this year are: Auburn, 7; Birmingham-Southern, 0. Auburn, 13; Clemson College, 0. Auburn, 0; V. P. I., 0. Auburn, 17; Howard College, 0. Auburn, 3; L. S. U., 0. Auburn, 0; Vanderbilt, 13. Total—Auburn, 40; other teams, 13.

Tulane has won all games with the exception of one which was with the Mississippi Argies. Auburn lost to Vanderbilt and tied with Tulane. Tulane has totaled 117 points against her opponents while Auburn has been content with 40.

TOURNEY OPENS AT PINEHURST
Pinehurst, N. C., November 5.—Percy W. Thompson, of Bethesda, New Brunswick, Canada, forced the Rev. T. A. Cheatham, of Pinehurst, to 19 holes in the opening round of the two-day annual Pinehurst autumn golf tournament before he was eliminated from the tournament. The two men staged the feature match of the tournament.

Results in the first flight follow: T. A. Cheatham, Pinehurst, defeated P. W. Thompson, New Brunswick, Canada, one up, 19 holes; P. L. Blue, Aberdeen, N. C., defeated Francis Keating, Pinehurst, 5 and 4; N. S. Irl, Pittsburgh, defeated G. T. Dunlap, by default; Donald Parson, Youngstown, defeated H. P. O'Neill, Stauders, N. B., 7 and 6.

AVERA-DRONEY BOUT DELAYED

Atlanta fans who had developed an interest in seeing Larry Avera, one of the cleverest waterweights ever developed in the south, fight Tim Droney, nationally-known brawler, here on November 11, will have to wait a few weeks to see that flistic attraction.

A. Harbort, state commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, the promoters of the show for Wednesday declared it has been postponed.

The match when staged later, will lead to greater things for Atlanta fight fans, it was said. It has been rumored that the veterans are going to bring Pinky Mitchell, junior welterweight champion of the world here to fight the winner of the Droney-Avera scrap.

The first baseball, used in 1845, weighed three ounces.

Mike Donahue Determined To Beat Alexander Team; Plenty of Subs on Hand

Baton Rouge, La., November 5.—(Special.)—That the L. S. U. Tigers will make a much more effective showing against Georgia Tech than they did against the Arkansas Razorbacks is the opinion of followers of the Purple and Gold at Louisiana State who realize that Mike Donahue is straining every effort to send the full strength of his team into Saturday's contest.

No serious injuries were sustained by the Tigers in their clash in Shreveport, and the Louisiana coach expects to have every man on the squad in perfect condition for Saturday's fray. Donahue knows that Tech has one of the strongest football eleven in the country today as evidenced by her defeat of Penn State. Realizing the task that confronts him, the doctored Irishman is pointing his team for the Jackets, determined to wipe out the recent disgrace inflicted by the Razorbacks.

The Tigers have no alibi to offer for the loss of this game. They were doped to win by a decisive margin but simply lacked the final punch to put over the winning touchdown. L. S. U. made eleven first downs to Arkansas' seven.

"Gob" Wilson, assistant coach, has developed one of the greatest set of forwards ever seen at L. S. U. with a strong substitute material is also available for the back field. While the L. S. U. Mentor obviously considers Stevens and Jackson at the half positions; Carriere, at quarterback, and Connell at full as his best bet, he has Pitcher and Warner, halves; Miller, quarterback, and Dimmick at full who are also good.

A special train which will leave here Thursday afternoon to carry the team, the L. S. U. band of 50 pieces and many rooters to Atlanta. The team ages, heights and weights in order named are as follows:

O. P. Carriere, quarterback, 20, 5'8, 140. Ogle Dimmick, quarterback, 21, 5'9, 145. Gus Jackson, halfback, 22, 5'8, 175. Ben Miller, halfback, 22, 5'7, 175. Norm Stevens, halfback, 21, 6'1, 165. L. C. Bourgeois, tackle, 21, 6'1, 185. George Connell, tackle, 21, 6'1, 190. H. C. Steele, guard, 23, 6'0, 180. A. L. Swanson, center, 19, 6'0, 190. A. R. Giff, halfback, 21, 5'10, 150. Bob Kannon, end, 22, 6'0, 160. R. L. Spencer, end, 20, 6'1, 190. F. C. Matthews, guard, 20, 5'11, 200. F. C. Spencer, halfback, 20, 6'0, 160. J. J. Weber, end, 21, 6'0, 170.

Although Oglethorpe has only turned out five graduating classes, the occasion is expected to be well attended, as an appeal to attend the game is also being sent to all former students of the Peachtree road institution.

Joseph R. Murphy, who is connected with the Southern Banker, is associated with J. R. Renter Terrell, president of the alumni association, in arranging a homecoming program. Plans for the entertainment of the visitors will be announced at a later date, but it is understood that the include an auction of Oglethorpe and a get-together dinner.

Present indications are that a record-breaking crowd will see the Petrels in action against the Mercer Bears, who were defeated by Oglethorpe last year, 7 to 6. Oglethorpe and Mercer today are the two outstanding members of the S. I. A. A. and the keen rivalry between the two institutions insures the fans seeing a real football game.

Out-of-town fans may make reservations for tickets through Frank Anderson, athletic director at Oglethorpe University, or through Jimmy Burns, of the Atlanta Georgian.

THIRD BAT. WINS AGAIN
The Third Battalion, basketball team of Tech won its second game of the first round Wednesday afternoon, defeating the Second Battalion, 29 to 9, in a one-sided game.

The feature of the game was the passing and teamwork of the winners with Amoros and Young doing the scoring from directly under the baskets.

Few long shots were attempted by the Third Battalion. This afternoon at 4 o'clock, the First and Fourth Battalion teams will play in the fourth game of the first round.

GA. TO START CAGE WORK EARLY

Athens, Ga., November 5.—(Special.)—Basketball practice at the University of Georgia will be started in about two weeks, according to an announcement made several days ago by Coach Herman J. Stegeman.

Work on the new basketball court is well under way, but will not be completed before the Tech game early in the spring.

Practice will be held in Memorial hall until the new court is finished. The Georgia Bulldogs are counting on one of the best basketball teams in several years and with a wealth of

RATES REDUCED FOR GA. GAME

Fred Geissler, assistant passenger traffic manager of the Seaboard Airline railway, last night announced a special reduced rate of $8.88 for the round trip Atlanta to Birmingham for the Georgia-Alabama Thanksgiving day football game. A special Pullman train will be run from Atlanta to Birmingham, leaving here at 11:30 o'clock the night of November 26, and reaching Birmingham at 6:15 o'clock Thanksgiving morning. Tickets for return will be limited for use November 28.

Other special trains will be operated between Athens and Birmingham to carry the Georgia team and student body to the scene of the game.

SPECIAL RATES FOR GA.-AUBURN
Special reduced fares from Atlanta to Columbus, Ga., and return for the Georgia-Auburn football game in Columbus, November 15, were announced by the Southern Railway yesterday through R. H. Hamilton, district passenger agent. The fare for the round trip will be $4.44. Mr. Hamilton announced.

VALDOSTA CATS FACE MOULTRIE

Valdosta, Ga., November 5.—(Special.)—The Valdosta Cats, eleven, whose impressive victory over the powerful eleven from Leon High, of Tallahassee, put the Valdosta Cats into the lead in the South Georgia conference, is faced with another game of importance this week when they clash Friday with the great team representing Moultrie High school. Moultrie has not suffered a defeat this season, and tied the Tallahassee eleven while the latter lost to the Cats by a margin of only one touchdown.

Coach Mike Herndon, of Valdosta, is putting his charges through practices in preparation for the game. Moultrie's sensational back and the outstanding star of the Tallahassee encounter, was slightly injured in the game, but is out in uniform and is expected to recover completely for the Moultrie meeting. The team is in good shape, and shows a noticeable improvement in team work and interference. The defensive conference is tight, and only three points have been scored on them in the five games played.

BRITISH STARS TO PLAY IN FLA.
New York, November 5.—Abe Mitchell and George Duncan, England's foremost golf twosome, who will arrive here November 29, will meet Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen, leading American players, in a 36-hole match at St. Augustine, Fla., on December 14.

'GATORS OFF FOR ARMY TILT

Tampa, Fla., November 5.—Twenty-three members of the University of Florida football team left Gainesville this afternoon for West Point, where they meet the Army eleven on Saturday. Judge H. S. Cockrell, head of the law department, accompanied the squad to tutor law students during their absence from school. The 'Gators will travel more than 6,000 miles in fulfilling the schedule this year.

SHADE TO MEET OMAHA BATTLER

New York, November 5.—Dave Shade, the aggressive California welterweight and one time aspirant for Mickey Walker's title, has been matched for a 12-round bout with Morris Schaffer, of Omaha, Neb.

The fight will take place at the Newark, N. J., armory on December 3.

EPINARD OFF FOR FRANCE
New York, November 5.—Epineard, famous French race horse, was shipped today on the Berengaria to France, where he will go into retirement as a result of a foot injury sustained in the last of four losing races in this country.

Whiz! ROLLER BEARINGS

make this coaster go like a bullet

Silent Roller Bearings

Full 1-Inch Balloon Type Tires

--Single Disc Wheels--

--Heavy Steel Bolsters

(no wood to split or crack)

16x36-in. Hardwood Body

--Built Like a Bridge--

The wheel bearings of this beautiful "Constitution Express" wagon are roller bearings—just like you find in the expensive automobiles. This is one of the reasons for the extra speed and surprising durability of this wagon. No old-fashioned wooden bolsters to split and break and check—the "Constitution Express" has bolsters made of heavy steel. You cannot find a better wagon anywhere. It has grease cups on each wheel, the same as an automobile. No grease to leak on clothes and wheels cannot lose or run off.

Just Get 4 New Subscriptions

Simply have the coupon blank at the right-hand side signed by responsible new subscribers, and bring or send to the office. If you live in Atlanta, come to The Constitution office today, or any day and see the balloon-like-tired flyer, compare it with others, and you won't rest until you own one. Get in the game! It is easy to earn one.

IT'S EASY WORK!

It will take you only a short time to secure four new six-month subscriptions to The Daily and Sunday Constitution, because every one knows that The Constitution is Atlanta's outstanding newspaper.

Besides helping you earn your Constitution Express wagon, the people who sign for six months through you are receiving the news of the world, interesting reading articles, and features for every member of the family for six months.

Start right out now and get the necessary number of six-month subscriptions. They must all be new, and each must be financially responsible, a householder, and the business address must be given of each. Then bring or send the subscription coupon blank to The Constitution office and after the subscriptions are verified and are O. K'd, the wagon is yours.

READ THESE INSTRUCTIONS CAREFULLY

New subscriptions, to be acceptable, must be from persons not at present subscriber to The Daily and Sunday Constitution, nor have been for the past thirty days, must not directly or indirectly take the place of some one who is now or has been a recent subscriber, or will be in the future.

New subscriptions, in addition to being acceptable in Atlanta and suburbs, will also be acceptable in towns outside of Atlanta where The Constitution has a carrier or dealer delivery service. The new subscriptions, however, must be passed upon and acceptable to the dealer or carrier of that town.

Out-of-town workers must turn their coupon book, or list of subscriptions, after it has been filled out with the required number of new subscriptions, each signed by the subscriber, over to the local Constitution dealer for his acceptance of the new subscriptions.

The news dealer will indicate his acceptance by writing over the order in pencil or ink, of each subscription so accepted, "O. K.—Accepted by me," and sign his name. Then the coupon list or book with the required number of accepted subscriptions is to be sent to The Constitution, which can be sent by either the dealer or the contestant, and the dealer's order will automatically be increased four or more, according to the number of new subscriptions.

Coaster wagons will be shipped by express (collected) to out-of-town workers. Those who live in Atlanta and suburban towns will get the wagons at The Constitution office.

SUBSCRIPTION BY MAIL ACCEPTED: Where The Constitution does not have a carrier service in any town outside of Atlanta, the paper will have to be sent by mail, in which case $5 must be collected for each new six months' subscription and sent with the order. No matter where the subscription is secured, if to go by mail, $5 for six months must accompany the order. The Constitution, however, is not in any way responsible for any collections paid in advance to contestants until the money has reached the office of publication.

THERE ARE ONLY TWO WORKING PLANS FOR SECURING SUBSCRIPTIONS

FIRST: Subscriptions to be delivered by carrier. Subscription order taken for delivery in the city of Atlanta and suburbs are to be presented to the city circulation department, second floor, Constitution office. They will then be verified.

It may take six days or more to properly verify the orders after you have turned them in before the wagon can be delivered. The Constitution reserves the right to reject any order that is not new; to reject orders from people who are not financially able to pay the amount due for the time contracted for, and to be the sole judge of such matters for all city orders. The out-of-town dealers reserve the same right, and this is agreed to by the contestant when the subscriptions are turned in.

You will find six contract blanks in the coupon. We suggest that you secure five or six orders, if possible, so that in verifying, one or two should decline to take the paper, or have not sufficient financial responsibility for The Constitution to accept, you will still have four good orders.

SECOND: Paid-in-advance mail subscriptions. Collect in advance for four new six-month subscriptions to The Daily and Sunday Constitution at $5 each, sending the name and address of each with a total remittance of $20, and the wagon is yours. Subscribers paying $5 for six months' subscription in advance do not have to sign an agreement.

Mrs. Garnett Torian, of Evansville, Indiana, the guest of Mrs. Lott Warren, Jr., and Mrs. William Rogers, of Jacksonville, who is visiting Mrs. Barnard Boykin, will be given a series of parties during their visit, and many of these have been announced with the following additional ones.

Mrs. George Street and Mrs. John Holmes will entertain informally at bridge today in compliment to these charming visitors.

Mrs. Charles Freeman and Miss Martha Edmondson will give a luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club in honor of Mrs. Torian and Mrs. Rogers, the date to be announced later, the guests will include eight friends of the guests of honor.

Mrs. Torian and Mrs. Rogers were honor guests at the informal bridge-luncheon at which Mrs. Rogers B. Toy was hostess Wednesday afternoon at her home on Westminister drive. Yellow and white chrysanthemums were used to decorate the apartments where the game was played, and this color motif was carried out in the smaller details of the decorations. The honor guests were each presented with a dainty hand-made bankchief, and the top score and consolation prizes were attractive bridge novelties.

Miss Katherine Stewart Is Guest of Honor.

Miss Katherine Stewart, a bride-elect of November, was honor guest at the bridge-ten given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Barker, at her home on Penn avenue. Vari-colored flowers decorated the house and Miss Barker was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. Hal Barker, and by Mrs. Henry Thompson.

Cook-Cook Bridal Party Is Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Parker Cook entertained the bridal party of the Cook-Cook wedding party at their home on Sycamore street, Decatur, on Monday evening following the rehearsal.

The reception rooms were profusely decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums. In the dining room was carried out the same motif. The bride's table was beautifully appointed with a cover of lace and silver vases holding beautiful bride's roses.

The bride was radiant in a black satin gown trimmed in squirrel and gold lace. Miss Hazel Shearer, cousin of the bride and one of her bridesmaids, was lovely in a rose crepe trimmed in silver. Mrs. Tallulah Cook, another cousin of the bride and a bridesmaid, was charming in a green velvet trimmed in silver. Mrs. John Tuggle, matron of honor, was becomingly gowned in Nile green georgette and silver. Mrs. F. P. Cook, mother of the bride, wore brown trimmed in fur and Mrs. Cook, mother of the groom, wore a handsome black gown.

Mr. Cook was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Joseph Shearer, aunt of the bride; Miss Minnie Bass, Mrs.

H. K. Deale and Mrs. Florence Deale.

Miss Hazel Shearer entertained at her home in Druid Hills in honor of her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Cook, whose marriage to Pierre W. Cook was an interesting event of Tuesday, November 4, at the Decatur Presbyterian church.

The house was beautifully decorated with a profusion of autumn flowers and foliage. Bridge was played, and many of the bride's close friends were the guests.

Miss Ginn Is Hostess To Phi Pi Sorority.

The Phi Pi sorority met with Miss Catherine Ginn Wednesday afternoon at her home on Seventeenth street.

Handsome chrysanthemums in a variety of colors decorated the home, a silver basket filled with them gracing the center of the tea table.

Mrs. E. H. Ginn assisted her daughter in entertaining.

The officers of the sorority are Miss Palmer Dallis, president; Miss Mary Harris, vice president; Miss Mary Wellbourn, treasurer, and Nell Clayton, secretary.

The pledges are Miss Adeline Winston, Miss Helen Hensley, Miss Norcross, Miss Mary Goldard, Miss Sarah

Miller Babcock, of Troy, Ala., and Miss Mary Eaton.

The active members are Miss Ginn, Miss Sarah Hurt, Miss Catherine Campbell, Miss Dorothy Bowman, Miss Josephine Scott, Miss Florence Hewlett, Miss Louise Arnold, Miss Eloise Perkins, Miss Mary McCarty, Miss Eleanor O'Brien, Miss Margaret Knox, Miss Virginia Courts and Miss Kelly, Miss Lucy Marion, Miss Lena Gertrude Peoples.

Mrs. Kellam Is Hostess To Fall Bride-Elect.

Mrs. Armine R. Kellam was hostess at a lovely tea Thursday at her home on Elne Ridge avenue, in honor of Miss Bob Tarver, whose marriage to Dr. Harold Matthew Boccock will be an event of November 10.

The house was decorated with a profusion of fall flowers, the predominating colors being yellow and green.

The daintily appointed tea table had as its centerpiece a large silver basket of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Kellam received her guests wearing a becoming gown of blue velvet embroidered in rhinestones. Mrs. Kellam's sister, Miss Mattie White Kellam, assisted in receiving the guests.

Miss Tarver, the charming bride-elect, was the guest of honor.

BEAUTY CHATS

Whether one approves of make-up or not, it is an undeniable fact that thousands of women do use rouge and lip sticks, and even eyebrow pencils, if not all the time, at least now and then. If they are going to use them at all, they must know how, for there is nothing worse to look at than a woman with badly painted cheeks and two sets of lips that don't quite match. Even if you only touch up your complexion once a winter you must learn what to use and how to use it. And make-up is a complicated art.

For the past several years make-up has been very artificial, but now it strives to imitate nature, not to heighten it. There never were so many varieties of make-up on the market. Cosmetic specialists have at last discovered that there is a great deal of orange in every sort of skin; practically all the new rouge for either blonde or brunette contains some proportion of it. Even face powder has it. Dead face powder is a thing of the past, the fairest blonde gives warmth and depth to her complexion if she uses peach or flesh shades instead of pearl white. For her they make rose-red rouge, and light rosy red lip sticks.

I have seen at least six new kinds of face powder for brunettes, a pale yellow which looks odd in the box but which gives the skin a delicious velvet appearance, a deep cream with a little rose in for yellow skin, and two deeper yellow shades to emphasize the rich olive of the true brunette.

For this type both rouge and lip stick are rich with orange and brown shades; indeed, to see them in a box one would never think these odd colors would blend at all with the skin. Yet they do so perfectly, for a good deal of scientific knowledge about the pigment of the complexion as well as the effect of sun and artificial light on color has gone into their making.

Another day we will talk about methods of applying rouge to gain the best effects.

Constant Reader.—If you push back the approaching skin over the nails each day you will lessen the tendency to grow it. You can form a habit of doing this when drying the hands after bathing, using the towel for the purpose; or for some nails use the blunt end of the orange wood stick. The nail of the finger over which you use a thimble will always need more attention than the others.

Jennie J.—The yellow spots over your mouth come from your liver and show a condition that is of sufficient importance to consult the doctor. After removing the blackhead always close the pores with an astringent, such as a few drops of denzoin in a quart of water, or by a direct application of alcohol or witch hazel.

D. A. L.—A girl of 16 years, height five feet, two inches, will be normal weight from 105 to 110 pounds.

Local Department Store Will Furnish Costumes for Show

Pretty and popular girls, wearing smart sports costumes, stylish ensemble suits, beautiful afternoon frocks and striking evening gowns will feature the annual fall fashion show to be held in the school auditorium of Washington seminary on Friday evening, November 14.

Davison-Paxon-Stokes company, one of Atlanta's large and most up-to-date department stores, will furnish the clothes for the occasion, also the lovely and appropriate hats, shoes and hose to be worn with the costumes.

The expert interior decorators of Davison-Paxon-Stokes company will transform the platform where the graceful manikins will parade into a lower of beauty and loveliness, using colorful draperies and furnishings to blend with the exquisite colors of the costumes.

The four most popular members of each class from the seminary have been elected by the members of their individual classes to take part in the revue. From the freshman class, who will wear the chic and snappy sports costumes, will be Misses Cornelia Orme, Eleanor Johnson, Dorothy Manley and Mary Preacher.

Misses Elizabeth Quinney, Vesta Bennett, Katherine Norcross and Charlotte Burdett will be the attractive sophomores wearing the modish ensemble suits.

The junior class voted Misses Bessie White, Sophie Street, Ruth Doid and Florence Eckford, the most popular members of their class and they will be attractive figures wearing charming afternoon gowns.

Misses Nan Allen, Margaret Kerley, Martha Powell and Marion Wolff, representatives of the senior class, will lend dignity and grace to the handsome evening gowns.

Selections by the Seminary Glee club and interpretative dances by members of Miss Irene Thomas' dancing class, physical directress of Washington seminary, will add to the interest of the occasion. The proceeds from the affair will be used for the benefit of the Alice Chandler Memorial fund.

The fashion show is one of the outstanding events of the school year, assembling a large number of the college contingent and older members of Atlanta society. A cordial invitation is extended the public to attend.

WOMAN STRICKEN WITH AMNESIA Baffles Doctors

Macon, Ga., November 5.—(Special.)—A woman, about five feet tall and under 30, with unobbed hair, who spent the last 24 hours at a clinic here, claiming that her mind was a blank, left on a sleeper tonight for Atlanta. She insisted that she did not know her name or where she was from.

She had several hundred dollars in her possession. Doctors were unable to establish her identity after several tests had been administered.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Combined Fruits.

Many housewives are canning various fruits together this year. They make delicious salads, desserts and fruit cups for next spring.

The Christmas List.

Now is the time to make it out and get your shopping done before you have to fight your way to a counter.

Use Good Soap.

Some housewives economize on the quality of soap for washing dishes and then wonder why their hands are rough and red. If pure soap is used for this task the difference in the price will soon be made up in hand lotions that must be used to get those hands into condition again.

Bed Lamps.

When making the attractive reading lamps that clamp on the headboard of the bed, it is wise to make the innermost lining of either white or cream-colored silk. It will create a much brighter light for reading than when a vivid color is used. The light lining may then be covered with the shade desired.

WOMEN'S CLOTHING TAKEN BY BURGLARS

Americus, Ga., November 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. D. Golden, proprietor of a ready-to-wear store here, reported to the police today that thieves entered her establishment last night and took merchandise valued at $2,500. The robbery was said today to have been the work of experts, who took only the highest-priced furs, coats and dresses.

Entrance was gained through a small window in the rear and footprints found there indicated more than one person participated in the burglary. No clues other than the footprints have been found by police.

Red Riding Hood

By ELIZABETH JORDAN

SYNOPSIS.
Mrs. Morgan Schuyler, one of New York's leading philanthropic and social lights, advertises for a young woman to work in her apartment mornings. The advertisement is answered by a girl evidently of birth and breeding. In spite of the fact that she admits a desire to hide her identity, Mrs. Schuyler accepts her on trust and tags her with the name of Hope Karsen.
Mrs. Schuyler's family consists of her mother, Mrs. Van Dorn; a young brother, Jim Van Dorn, and an older brother, Bertie, who is away.
The second morning of her employment after receiving a mysterious telephone call, Mrs. Schuyler summons Dr. Horace Osborne. Hope tells the doctor she is employed during the afternoon hours on East 70th street. He offers to drive her there and by a strange coincidence has an appointment at the house where Hope is employed. The patient is a boy of 5 years, about whom the entire household mysteriously revolves, the closest guardian an uncle named Scarwenka. All of the members of this household are foreigners except Hope, who is known as Sonia. A day or two later, Hope, who is going to take the boy away that night, Hope decides to call on Dr. Osborne for help. He accompanies her to the house, where the two conspirators find Van Scarwenka there before them. By a trick the doctor locks Hope and the doctor in the room with the child. They escape through the window and take the boy to a hospital.
The next morning Sally Wallis calls on Hope at the Schuylers. She tells the secretary about her hopes in life. The man in the case has just returned to New York after a long absence, and Sally learns that he is ill in a sanitarium and facing a serious operation.

INSTALLMENT XLVI.

THE RING.

Hope's youth and an optimism that once had been unconquerable combined to make her temporarily forget the black door in her personal foreground. Yet there it stood and not even these glittering reflections could lend a high light to its sinister outline.

When she reached the entrance of the East 70th street house the door opened almost before she had time to announce herself by her special signal. In the past it had been scarwenka's custom when she had passed through it at once busy himself with lock and bolts, thus avoiding anything in the nature of a greeting or even of recognition of her presence. Today it was different. He stood before her, a figure erect and soldierly, with the dawn of a smile on his heavy face; and when she impulsively held out her hand to him he surprisingly bent and kissed it. He was dressed with extreme neatness, and the hall floor, the stairs, and the balustrade so shone with polish that she could almost see her own amazed face in them. From the second floor came the sound of voices—Madam Scarwenka's and Adela's, raised in a jubilant dialogue, and as she passed along the hall there was a bumping noise overhead, suggesting that trunks were being dragged about.

She asked no questions, but went directly to her study. There a fire again blazed on the hearth, and she missed the light coat of dust that usually had collected on the furniture over night. She sat down at her desk and gave a moment's thought to these phenomena. Vasali was now living here. He must have moved in early this morning. That, of course, would account for the outburst of cleanliness. It would seem at first thought as if the fact of his presence made her own almost unnecessary, but this was for him to decide. In the meantime, she was rather at sea as to her next step. What she wished to do, of course, was to go upstairs and see the Tartar, who she assumed was being kept in bed after his hectic night. On the other hand, a visit to these new conditions might not be tactful. She would play a waiting game and let Vasali make the first move. Incidentally she must buckle down to her work if she wished to leave early. Her trunk, containing such wardrobe as she possessed, was at the Schuylers, and she must return there to dress for the evening.

Colonel Vasali was not long in making his move. Later it appeared that he had been eating a delayed luncheon in the basement dining room in company with young Alexandree, who had been permitted to leave his bed for that function and who now, in immaculate silk pajamas, bedroom slippers, and a red bathrobe of almost startling freshness, entered the study with his guardian. Even his hair had been brushed and combed, and every shining black curl seemed standing on end to discover what all these changes meant.

The boy ran into Hope's arms which opened to receive him, while Colonel Vasali approached the desk with his usual dignity. Hope recalled Sally's sobriquet, "Santa Claus," the flapper had named him, and he was not unlike that genial saint in general effect, with his girlish, his gray hair and his beard. This afternoon his new and almost jovial smile lent the final touch to the resemblance. The tenseness and ceremony of earlier hours had disappeared. His bow to the girl was as informal as his expression, and while he drew a chair toward her desk with one hand he took his watch from a pocket with the other and glanced at it with a broadening smile.

"Quarter past two," he announced. "Our friend Doctor Osborne will be with us in fifteen minutes. As we are leaving tonight, mademoiselle, it is well to attend to details of business, and of friendship, before we go."

"Leaving tonight!" Hope repeated the words blankly, her arms closing a little tighter on the child, who was crowded by rubbing his dark cheek against hers as he stood in their circle leaning against her heart. The Tartar was the most masculine small boy she had ever known. His outbursts of temper often shocked and disturbed her, and his manly scorn for baby games was daily expressed. Even his occasionally expressed longing for heaven assumed that the new environment would contain small boys, giants to be killed, and hosts of large and dangerous animals. But to her, now as always, he showed the side of his nature hidden from his other associates. Active and restless as he was, wilful and intolerant of authority, he would remain with her quietly at long as she cuddled and petted him. At such times he was merely a lonely hungry baby having little in common with the Tartar who clawed Van Saanen and exchanged Balkan Billingsgate with Mihail.

Vasali uttered a command in his own language, and the Tartar straightened and slipped out of Hope's arms, his black eyes shining with sudden excitement. Very importantly he plunged a small fist into the right pocket of the red bath robe and pulled out what appeared to be a wad of white tissue paper.

"Open it," he commanded, and stood back in his favorite attitude to watch the process, his short, sturdy legs wide apart, his eager eyes turning from the girl's face to the parcel and back again.

The wad was not tied and she had only to unfold the paper several times to reach the round object that was its heart. As she did so something flashed dazingly into her eyes from the background of crumpled paper. The object was a ring of heavy antique design, and the stone, in it appeared to be a large cabochon emerald set in an oval frame of diamond. She raised her puzzled glance from the ring to the child, and his eyes shone like the jewels as he took it from her.

"I must put it on your finger," he announced. "Colonel Vasali says so."

With the words his new dignity departed, and he was all child again as he leaned against her knees and became absorbed in this agreeable task. The effect of the achievement was slightly blurred by his indecision as to which finger should be adorned by the new ring; but after revealing a passing preference for the thumb, and receiving a strong hint from Vasali, he finally selected the third finger of Hope's right hand. This little detail attended to, and the ring safely in place, he kissed her again in response to her thanks and evidently feeling that the party was over started for the door, announcing as it closed behind him that he must see Buster.

Hope looked uncertainly from the superb gift to the man who was watching her. She knew something about stones, and this ring was not a child's toy.

"But— it seems so valuable!" she stammered at last.

"It is valuable, mademoiselle. It should be."

Vasali kept his black eyes on her, looking more than ever like a benignant Santa Claus and evidently enjoying the little scene almost as much as the child had done.

"Surely, mademoiselle, you have had your impressions of us," he went on, as she did not reply. "What were we to you?" he added curiously. "How did you explain us? I have sometimes asked myself that question."

She hesitated, and her charming, unwilling smile suddenly illumined her face. It was the first time he had seen it, and in that moment, also for the first time, Vasali understood her attraction for the lonely baby. Up till now, in his heart, he had considered this efficient young person invaluable, no doubt, but older than she looked and very cold.

"It wasn't for me to speculate," she was saying in answer to his question. "I tried not to give the matter much thought, but of course I couldn't avoid certain conclusions. I classified this as a household of refugees, probably from the Balkans, though I knew the names were all assumed. I realized that the two men and the two women were peasants—possibly former servants brought over to look after the boy. From Alexandree's fluent American," she smiled again, "I knew he must have been in our country since he was a very small baby, and from your wish to have me watch his English and his manners, but not any way to repress his exhibitions of temper and authority, I inferred—"

She hesitated, but he did not help her. Instead, he evidently felt that some defense of his own attitude was required.

"We wished him to develop naturally," he pointed out. "We had to learn if he was like the others of his race."

THE GUMPS—THE WOUNDED GLADIATOR

I'VE MADE YOU SOME NICE VEGETABLE SOUP, DEAR.

I HAVE NO APPETITE—MY HEAD FEELS LIKE A BOILER FACTORY ON A BUSY DAY.

OH MIN— I MIGHT HAVE KNOWN I COULDN'T TRUST THAT CAMPAIGN MANAGER— WHY DIDN'T I MAKE SURE HE HAD PLACED MY NAME ON THE BALLOT—

DON'T BE DOWNHEARTED, DEAR— EAT SOME OF THIS WARM SOUP AND YOU'LL FEEL BETTER— YOUR MUST KEEP UP YOUR STRENGTH— YOU HAVEN'T EATEN A BITE SINCE ELECTION DAY—

I DON'T MIND MYSELF BUT I FEEL SORRY FOR THE COUNTRY— IT SURE WAS CHEATED OUT OF A FIRST-CLASS PRESIDENT— THAT WAS ONE JOB I COULD HANDLE— I WAS GOING TO GIVE THE PEOPLE A SQUARE DEAL, REDUCE TAXES, RAISE WAGES AND MAKE EVERYBODY HAPPY— WELL, THEY CAN'T BLAME ME— GOSH, I FEEL SORRY FOR LITTLE MIN— SHE WAS ALL READY TO MOVE INTO THE WHITE-HOUSE—

Next!
"John, I gotta get a shave in a hurry. How many ahead of me?"
"Only three hairbobs and a complexion pack."

MY EEL, CLARA.
By Dr. Walter E. Traprock.
Clara was a pet eel which I brought up from early eel-hood at my farm. She came into my life through the water-pipes which connected me with the reservoir. I turned on the faucet one morning and out came Clara. She was little more than a worm at the time and proceeded to do a number of the turns for which worms are famous. This endeared her to me and I kept her as a pet.
Clara grew about a foot a year for five years. During that period I taught her a number of amusing tricks. She was wonderful at tying herself in knots and soon mastered all the complicated bights, hitches, and cloves in the Boy Scout Manual.
Shortly after the fifth anniversary of her coming out a catastrophe happened. As she was sunning herself on the edge of a small pond, where she exercised, a large hawk swooped down and seized her in his talons. Just as he had carried her up to a height of about 200 feet the marauder was fiercely attacked by another hawk. A heart-rending struggle took place in mid-air with Clara as the prize. It was then that her training stood her in good stead. By skillful looping of her two ends Clara managed to form two slipknots, one around the neck of each bird. She was, you see, playing both ends against the middle. You can see the inevitable result. As each bird strained to pull Clara away from his adversary he tightened the noose and choked himself. They fell into the pond, where both birds were drowned.
Clara is still living, but at such an advanced age that the only knot she can still tie is a granny. It cannot but make me feel a little sad when I realize that in her prime she could do 40 knots an hour with ease.

Classroom-Kapers.
A first-grade class was receiving its first lesson in reading. The young teacher was animatedly discussing the various members of the cat family.
"What do you call a baby pussy?" she asked.
"Kitten," replied Harold.
"Watch me while I write the first sound of kitten," said the teacher, putting on the blackboard the letter "k."
"Now," she continued, "who will tell me the first sound of kitten?"
"Meow!" was the prompt response of Jimmy.
—Lillian E. Piddian.

Considerate.
Judge: "So the landlord hasn't made any improvements on the premises?"
Tenant: "Only one, Your Honor. There's been a new advertising sign painted on the side of the building."
—Mrs. Albert Levant.

THE EDITOR'S GOSSIP SHOP.
We are getting some of the humor that bubbles in the classrooms—but we are not getting enough of it!
We want more!
We know it's there!
We would rather you get the money by getting it and sending it in.
But if you don't, you can be assured we have a way of getting it.
What do you say?

YURES VARY TRUELY.
By R. E. Alexander.
Dere May:
I take my pen in hand To say—to tell you this— Leaves me as well as it finds you— I hope. * (This is a kiss.) I like you vary, vary much. Do you like me—or not? I'll have some peppermints for you Tomorrow. ** (You know what.) Lizzie Bowman said yure here Was red—and I said "Shame!" Yure here ain't red—it's only pink! *** (Here's some more of same.) Tommy Jones says yure his girl— But you ain't are you dere? **** (I guess you know these here.) Yure going to wait for me, ain't you? It won't be long—I'll hurry And grow up—and you do the same. With ***** (Kisses) Yures, Ted Curry.

Realized It.
Mrs. Crabshaw: "That young man who is courting you seems to be rather frivolous. Do you think he realizes that matrimony is a serious thing?"
Marjorie: "Indeed he does, Mamma. He's talking about breaking his engagement."
—J. J. O'C.

Vain Quest.
"Why didn't you wait for Dolly if she wasn't home?"
"They said she went to the barber shop."
—Joseph Zweiselle.

Thinking It Down.
She sat herself down and loudly did weep;
For she said that her beauty was only skin deep;
Let me whisper it to you, I wouldn't speak louder,
I'm afraid it is only as deep as her powder.
—E. L. O'Brien.

SOMEBODY'S STENOGRAPHER—Big Game

FOLLOWED THAT TRAIL FOR MILES AN' IT'S ONLY A CHIPMUNK! NOW I'M LOST!

WELL, THANK HEAVEN THAT'S A SIGN! NOW THAT CHIPMUNK LED ME A FINE CHASE. I HAVEN'T HAD A CHANCE TO USE THIS GUN YET.

GOSH, NOW I DON'T REMEMBER WHICH WAY THE SIGN POINTED

I LIKE THE WAY MY SWEET POPPER ALWAYS HUNTS BIG GAME THAT PUTS UP A FIGHT. I'M JUST LIKE POPPER. I LIKE A MAN'S SIZED JOB. HOW ABOUT A LITTLE KISS SWEETIE?

YOU PICKED OUR FIRST LAST MAN'S SIZED JOB IF YOU TRY THAT!

THIS IS AN EASY JOB! JUST THE BOSS AND ME IN THIS LITTLE OFFICE AND THE BOSS AWAY ON BUSINESS NEARLY THE WHOLE DAY! IT'S AWFUL LONESOME THOUGH. GUESS I'LL SEE IF THERE ARE ANY OTHER STENO'S AROUND HERE!!

MY NAME'S WINNIE WINKLE. I WORK IN THE OFFICE NEXT TO YOURS! GOSH! IT'S AWFUL LONESOME THOUGH. GUESS I'LL SEE IF THERE ARE ANY OTHER STENO'S AROUND HERE!!

MY NAME'S ANNA DUMLER. GEE, I'M GLAD TO HAVE SOMEONE TO TALK TO! MY BOSS IS NEVER IN!

WHY DO YOU ASK IF I WAS EVER IN LOVE ANNA??

BECAUSE I FEEL I CAN CONFIDE IN YOU! I WAS NEVER IN LOVE BEFORE, BUT I MET A FINE GUY. HE WAS A WONDERFUL GENTLEMAN WHO'S CRAZY ABOUT ME AND OH! I'M MADLY IN LOVE WITH HIM TOO! I'D LIKE YOU TO MEET HIM!!

WELL, I GUESS IT'S TIME TO CLOSE THE OFFICE! I PROMISED TO MEET A NEW GIRL FRIEND OF MINE, KENNETH DARE!!

BEFORE WE GO I WANT YOU TO MEET A NEW GIRL FRIEND OF MINE, KENNETH DARE!!

ALL RIGHT BUT YOUR FIRST AND ONLY GIRL I EVER LOVED, MY LITTLE ANNA!!

GOOD HEAVENS!! IT'S KENNETH DARE!!

GRACIOUS! WHAT A NARROW ESCAPE! I DON'T WANT TO BREAK LITTLE ANNA'S HEART OR TO HAVE TOLD THAT VILLAIN SOMETHING!!

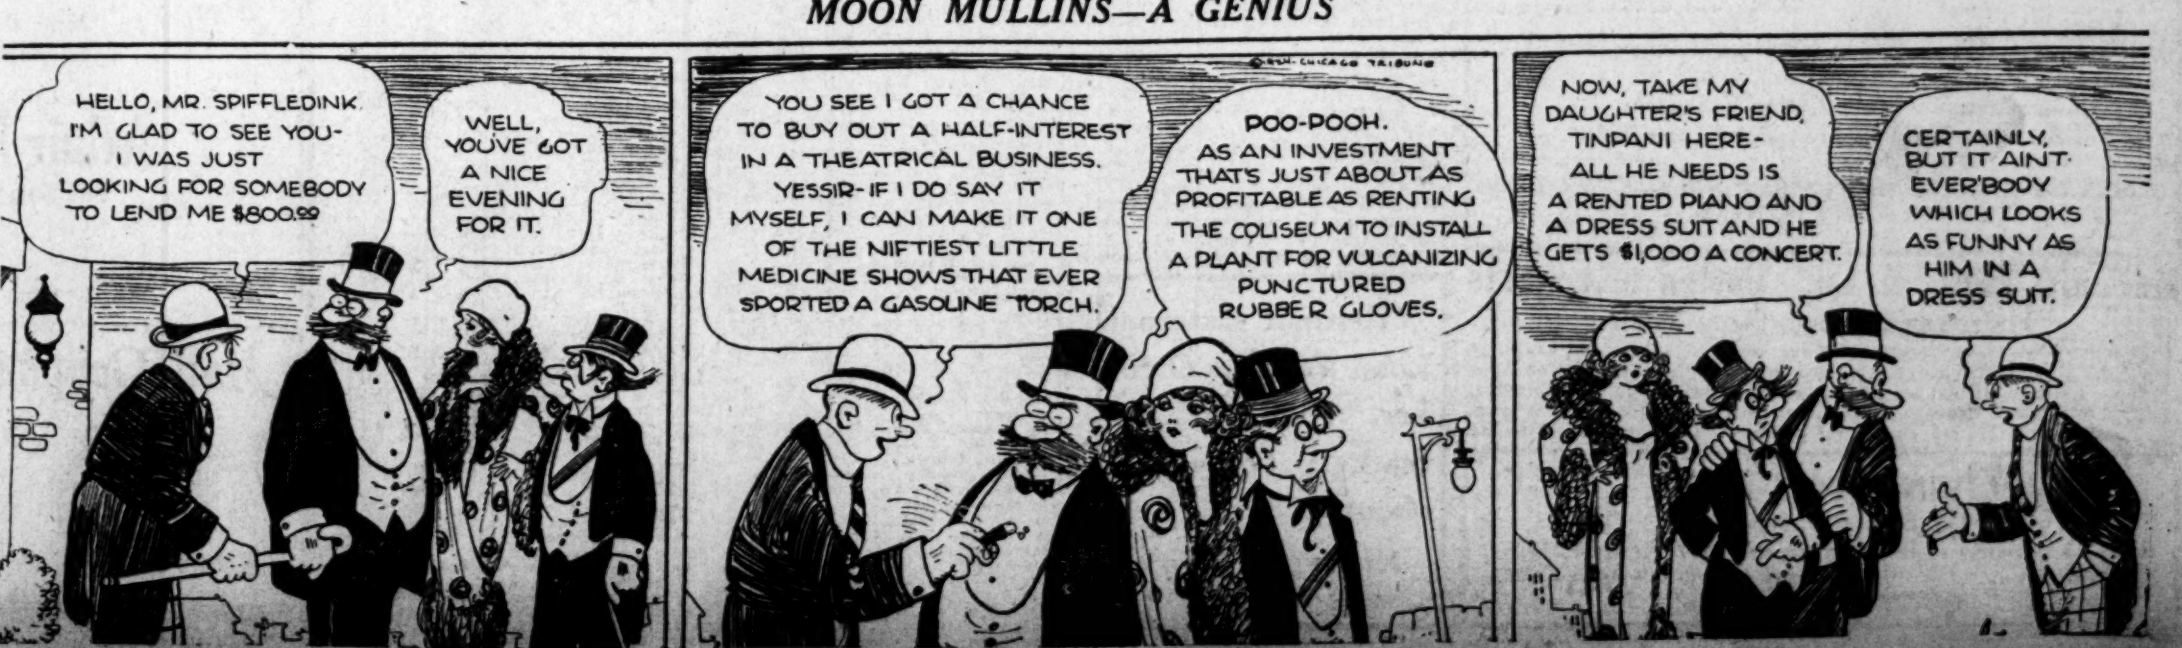

I CAN'T UNDERSTAND WHY SHE DIDN'T MEET ME!

OH WELL SOME OTHER TIME!!

GASOLINE ALLEY—ANOTHER BALLOON ACCIDENT

MOON MULLINS—A GENIUS

HELLO, MR. SPIFFLEDINK. I'M GLAD TO SEE YOU— I WAS JUST LOOKING FOR SOMEBODY TO LEND ME $500.00

WELL, YOU'VE GOT A NICE EVENING FOR IT.

YOU SEE I GOT A CHANCE TO BUY OUT A HALF-INTEREST IN A THEATRICAL BUSINESS. YESSIR— IF I DO SAY IT MYSELF, I CAN MAKE IT ONE OF THE FINEST LITTLE MEDICINE SHOWS THAT EVER SPORTED A GASOLINE TORCH.

POO-POOH. AS AN INVESTMENT THAT'S JUST ABOUT AS PROFITABLE AS RENTING THE COLISEUM TO INSTALL A PLANT FOR VULCANIZING PUNCTURED RUBBER GLOVES.

NOW, TAKE MY DAUGHTER'S FRIEND, TINDANI HERE— ALL HE NEEDS IS A RENTED PIANO AND A DRESS SUIT AND HE GETS $1,000 A CONCERT.

CERTAINLY, BUT IT AIN'T EVERYBODY WHICH LOOKS AS FUNNY AS HIM IN A DRESS SUIT.

ADDRESSES MARK CHRISTIAN MEET

Constitution Bureau, Masonic Temple Annex, Phone 1069.

Rome, Ga., November 5.—(Special.) Addresses by A. R. Adams, of Savannah; Grant K. Lewis, secretary of the Union Christian society, of St. Louis, and H. O. Pritchard, secretary of the board of education, featured the program of the 77th annual session of the Georgia Christian Missionary society here tonight.

The morning program consisted of two conferences, the Women's Missionary board and the young people's work, led by the regional secretary, R. B. Quick, of Atlanta.

This was followed by the report of the treasurer and secretary and several missionary pastors. Reports of the districts throughout the state were given also. E. B. Foster, of Savannah, president of the state board, spoke on state missions. J. R. Farris, of Savannah led the intercession.

The afternoon session was in the hands of the Woman's Mission society, and consisted of reports from various officers of the district. The devotion was led by Mrs. C. B. Erd, of Atlanta. State president, Mrs. H. B. Phipps, of Atlanta, presided.

Five Bound Over.

Rome, Ga., November 5.—(Special.) Nine men arrested for violating the prohibition law were brought before Judge George S. Reese this afternoon for a preliminary hearing. Ten men were arrested, but "Babe" Shapen, who was placed under $1,000 bond, was allowed to take the bond to his father to be signed. He failed to return.

Of the nine, five were bound over to the superior court. They are: E. Sell Gravelly, Charley Grace, Bob Holcomb, Jess Scoggins and G. Clark, a negro. John McCullough, B. Henon, Ross Henson and D. Casey waived trial.

Rome Election Looms.

Rome, Ga., November 5.—(Special.) A total of 2,172 votes are registered for the city election in December, when seven city commissioners are to be elected. Of those who qualified, 970 were women and 1,193 men. On Saturday, the closing day, over 500 people qualified.

Push Memorial Park Work.

Rome, Ga., November 5.—(Special.) The American Legion Memorial park will be begun at once, and plans are being rushed to give Rome a municipal park.

Wets and Drys Both Interpret Election as Gain

Washington, November 5.—Claims of congressional gains for their ranks in yesterday's election were made in statements issued here tonight by leaders of both the dry and wet forces. Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Antislavery league, declared that in the house the "large dry majority was increased," and that the "thirty-three senators elected the wets will not have more than four or five and only one of the five senatorial candidates endorsed by them was elected."

The election, he said, shows that the "people want more and better enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment."

W. H. Stayton, executive head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, asserted that "not only in the wet bloc preserved intact, but the anti-prohibitionists have actually gained strength, notably in the west." The outstanding feature of the election, he said, is the "remarkable showing of wet democrats, who, in a republican year and with the organized prohibitionists savagely attacking them, were returned victors to a man."

LAW, NOT FASHION, TO DECIDE STYLE FOR POLISH WOMEN

Warsaw, November 5.—In the interests of modesty and female health, the Polish parliament will be asked to make law and not fashion the arbiter of women's clothes.

A bill has been drafted which would limit the display of ankles and shoulders. The proposed statute is supported by many members of the parliament and was originated by Warsaw rabbi who already have done what they could to cover the female form by barring immodestly dressed women from the synagogues.

HOME OF CASCADE WHISKY IN ASHES

Normandy, Tenn., November 5.—The famous Cascade distillery, founded a half century ago by Victor E. Shwab, who died Sunday night in Nashville, was burned here last night. It was ignited by forest fires. Cascade whisky, formerly made at the distillery, was advertised as being "mellow as moonlight" and attained an international reputation.

Forest fires in this vicinity were still burning fiercely. Squads of men worked all last night in an attempt to check the flames.

THREE NEW CASES OF PLAGUE FOUND ON PROBING TOUR

Los Angeles, Cal., November 5.—Three new cases of pneumonic plague developed in Los Angeles Wednesday as 22 nurses and physicians began a house-to-house inspection in the quarantined area of the Mexican quarter to ferret out any plague cases on which reports have not been made.

Meanwhile authorities have started a campaign of extermination against rats in the harbor district at San Pedro, as it is thought the rodents may have spread the disease here. It has resulted in 26 deaths in the past fortnight.

BOB-HAIR CRAZE CITED AS CAUSE OF BANKRUPTCY

New York, November 5.—If the American women knew the suffering they had caused by bobbing their hair they would go back to long tresses, according to a petition filed Wednesday in filing a petition in bankruptcy for a New York firm of hair net manufacturers.

"The American women have practically paralyzed the human hair net business as an industry," Hershenson said. "Goods are on the shelf and the raw material market, which is in China has had no demand and is in a precarious condition financially."

Honor Club Elects.

Athens, Ga., November 5.—(Special.)—B. F. Grant, of Athens; Walter Bridges, of Dawson, and P. A. Steiner, of Augusta, this week were initiated into Alpha Zeta, honorary fraternity for agricultural students. They were chosen because of their high scholastic standing and their prominence in student activities. Grant and Bridges are seniors. Steiner is a junior.

Trustee's Sale Drug Store.

By order of the Court the Trustee in Bankruptcy will offer for sale, public outcry, for cash, in the office of Referee, E. H. Conner, 210 North Peachtree street, Georgia, at 11 o'clock A. M. on the 12th day of November, 1924, fixtures and stock of drugs, confectioneries, cigars, tobacco, etc., belonging to the estate of H. Cohen, trading as Hurt S. Pharmacy.

Above to be offered subject to all valid and existing liens, and free from such liens. All bids subject to confirmation of the Court.

For further information see undersigned. CLARENCE H. CALHOUN, Refr. 1045 Hurt building, Phone WA 471.

BRAZILIAN CREW SURRENDERS SHIP

Buenos Aires, November 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The crew of the Brazilian destroyer, Goyas, mutinied yesterday and sailed the vessel outside the harbor to join the mutinous battleship Sao Paulo, according to advices received today from Rio Janeiro. It was said, however, that the destroyer later surrendered to the government forces.

Britain Orders Huge Air Liners To Span Atlantic

London, November 5.—(By United News.)—Contracts for construction of an airship twice the size of the Los Angeles and capable of crossing the Atlantic from London to New York in two days have been placed by the British government.

Vickers, limited, the company which has been awarded the contract, is planning to build the huge ship, Sir Trevor Dawson, vice chairman of the directorate, announced Wednesday.

Commercial success depends on the development of adequate motors," Sir Trevor said. "We hope to obtain engines that will permit people even to visit the United States for the weekend. When we complete the airship we expect to accomplish the westward journey in two days and make even better time on the return."

The airship will be built at Howden, where the ZR-2 was built. The ZR-2 buckled and fell into the River Humber in flames during the last trial flight before she was to have sailed across the Atlantic for delivery to the United States.

A crew of the mixed English and American crew of the ZR-2 died in the wreckage of their craft. Investigation later disclosed structural faults which caused the collapse. "She was built to remain on the ground," one scientist said, "and not to fly."

STOCK IS FIRST DEMOCRAT TO WIN IN IOWA SINCE '48

Des Moines, November 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Daniel F. Steck, democratic candidate for United States senator, whose election was conceded by Louis H. Cook, Senator Brookhart's campaign manager, when less than 200 precincts in the state remained to be heard from, will have broken a precedent of 65 years of uninterrupted republican representation for Iowa in the senate if final figures do not upset the ratio established by the precincts that have reported.

Iowa's last previous democratic senator was George W. Johnson, of Dubuque, who served from 1848 to 1859. Steck's advance to the highest honors his party has ever won in this state has been spectacular. His only previous public office was that of county attorney for Wapello county, his native community. He was elected to that post twice.

Steck's immediate recognition after the world war came from the American Legion, which elevated him to the place of commander of the Iowa department and then under Hamilton MacNider's regime as national commander, to that of chairman of the legion's national executive committee, a position of great importance.

Steck's political career is a record of the veterans in the successful battle of the compensation measure. He was national commander of the United States entered the war, but was commissioned by the government of the state to recruit a legion company. Later he led that company to France as Company 9, 10th signal battalion, 34th division.

RIGHT TO ELECT AT POLLS BEATEN IN JERSEY TOWN

Atlantic City, N. J., November 5. Despite pre-election anxiety, Folsom, a village 12 miles from here, seems to be the only place where a third party was successful in wresting from the people the privilege of selecting their own officers.

In Folsom Dennis Smith, independent candidate for mayor, caused the democratic and republican vote to be divided between Jacob Eckhardt, republican, and Philip Halzer, democrat, and now the city council will have to decide who will be mayor.

Eckhardt and Halzer each received 25 votes, while Smith polled 20.

Rail Directors Work To Settle Difficulties In Nickel Plate Merger

New York, November 5.—Renewed efforts to adjust the difficulties over lease terms which have retarded the progress of the Nickel Plate railroad consolidation being engineered by O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen, of Cleveland, were made today by directors of the Erie and Pere Marquette railroads which with the present Nickel Plate, Chesapeake and Ohio and Rock Island Valley, will constitute the enlarged system.

George F. Baker, head of the First National Bank of New York, named chairman of a subcommittee representing the Erie Railroad, will negotiate with the Van Sweringens on various questions involved in that matter. Other members of the committee which will discuss the terms of the lease submitted to the constituent roads are L. E. Loree and J. Van Sweringen.

FIRST SHIP CLEARS PORT OF DETROIT FOR FOREIGN DOCK

Detroit, November 5.—Detroit started its first ship to a foreign port today when the Onondaga, of the Henry Ford fleet, left its docks in the River Rouge bound for Buenos Aires, Argentina. It is carrying 1,500 tons of cargo of automobile parts. Additional tonnage will be shipped at Montreal after the vessel passes the 14-foot channel in the St. Lawrence river.

The voyage of the Onondaga inaugurates the Ford export business. The Onondaga, a sister ship is now loading at the Ford plant and in a few days will sail for Norfolk, Jacksonville, New Orleans and Houston, inaugurating the Atlantic coastwise shipping business. Both ships will have winter headquarters at Norfolk.

HERE IS A GOOD NORTH SIDE HOME

This house is situated on a corner lot not far from the Georgian Terrace and the Biltmore Hotel. It has seven rooms and bath, with extra lavatory downstairs. It is in good condition throughout. We can make the price $10,000. This is the only house we have in that locality at this figure, and we doubt very much if any one else will sell a house so well located at this price.

There is an advantage in living in the near-north side section. It is in walking distance of the center and the structures constantly going up there to make property values increase. This is a house that can be lived in for a number of years and by that time the corner lot may be expected to do what other north side corner lots have done—that is, become very valuable. We can make very easy terms of payment.

Cook, Senator Brookhart's campaign manager, when less than 200 precincts in the state remained to be heard from, will have broken a precedent of 65 years of uninterrupted republican representation for Iowa in the senate if final figures do not upset the ratio established by the precincts that have reported.

RIGHT TO ELECT AT POLLS BEATEN IN JERSEY TOWN

Atlantic City, N. J., November 5. Despite pre-election anxiety, Folsom, a village 12 miles from here, seems to be the only place where a third party was successful in wresting from the people the privilege of selecting their own officers.

In Folsom Dennis Smith, independent candidate for mayor, caused the democratic and republican vote to be divided between Jacob Eckhardt, republican, and Philip Halzer, democrat, and now the city council will have to decide who will be mayor.

Eckhardt and Halzer each received 25 votes, while Smith polled 20.

Rail Directors Work To Settle Difficulties In Nickel Plate Merger

New York, November 5.—Renewed efforts to adjust the difficulties over lease terms which have retarded the progress of the Nickel Plate railroad consolidation being engineered by O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen, of Cleveland, were made today by directors of the Erie and Pere Marquette railroads which with the present Nickel Plate, Chesapeake and Ohio and Rock Island Valley, will constitute the enlarged system.

George F. Baker, head of the First National Bank of New York, named chairman of a subcommittee representing the Erie Railroad, will negotiate with the Van Sweringens on various questions involved in that matter. Other members of the committee which will discuss the terms of the lease submitted to the constituent roads are L. E. Loree and J. Van Sweringen.

FIRST SHIP CLEARS PORT OF DETROIT FOR FOREIGN DOCK

Detroit, November 5.—Detroit started its first ship to a foreign port today when the Onondaga, of the Henry Ford fleet, left its docks in the River Rouge bound for Buenos Aires, Argentina. It is carrying 1,500 tons of cargo of automobile parts. Additional tonnage will be shipped at Montreal after the vessel passes the 14-foot channel in the St. Lawrence river.

The voyage of the Onondaga inaugurates the Ford export business. The Onondaga, a sister ship is now loading at the Ford plant and in a few days will sail for Norfolk, Jacksonville, New Orleans and Houston, inaugurating the Atlantic coastwise shipping business. Both ships will have winter headquarters at Norfolk.

HERE IS A GOOD NORTH SIDE HOME

This house is situated on a corner lot not far from the Georgian Terrace and the Biltmore Hotel. It has seven rooms and bath, with extra lavatory downstairs. It is in good condition throughout. We can make the price $10,000. This is the only house we have in that locality at this figure, and we doubt very much if any one else will sell a house so well located at this price.

There is an advantage in living in the near-north side section. It is in walking distance of the center and the structures constantly going up there to make property values increase. This is a house that can be lived in for a number of years and by that time the corner lot may be expected to do what other north side corner lots have done—that is, become very valuable. We can make very easy terms of payment.

The Rebuilding Of Men and Women

Building houses is a worthy service, but building men and women is a greater one. There is nothing so well worth while as the development of a human being—body, mind and soul, to the highest excellence.

With the best material and the most attractive personality, it is a task worthy of the best that is in us. Much more difficult is the reconstruction of those who have fallen by the wayside in the struggle of life. One of the triumphs of modern industry is the utilization of waste material in by-products. Strange to say, the resourcefulness of men is a little late in taking care of the most valuable of all waste material—the human derelict.

Now the brain and conscience of our ablest men are brought to bear on this problem with all the force of organization and team-work.

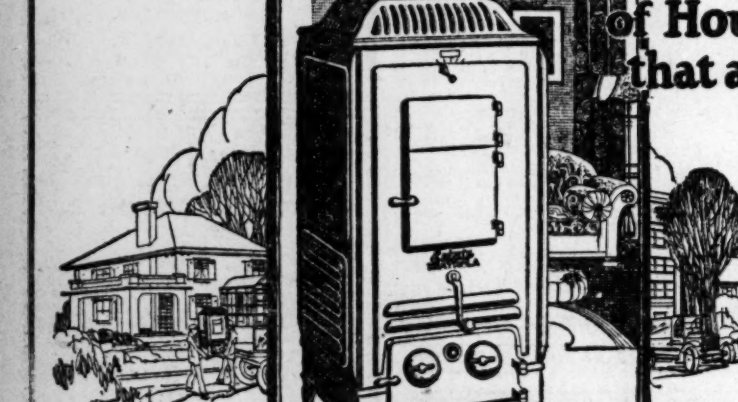

It is not mere alms giving. This work is to lift its object out of the Charity Class and put him on his feet as a Self-Sustaining member of Society.

We cannot fail to respond to a call like this, but let us do it quickly.
